

NORTH SHORE TO VIEW BETTER HOMES EXHIBIT

Highland Park Woman's Club
Sponsors Unusual Exposition
October 13 to 15

One of the most notable projects ever undertaken by a woman's club in the tenth district is the forthcoming Better American Homes exposition now being promoted by the Highland Park Woman's club. The club building owned by this organization at Sheridan road and Elm place, in Highland Park, will house the exposition on October 13, 14 and 15. This is an enterprise of considerable magnitude and all plans are about completed for its success.

Forty Exhibitors

Both floors of the building are being devoted to the purposes of the exposition and about forty exhibitors in all have bought space for the display of their products. The main auditorium floor has been given over almost entirely to the more decorative and beautiful appurtenances of the home, and numbers among its exhibitors the following:

Lyon & Healy, The W. P. Nelson company, John A. Colby & Sons, Walter G. Warren & Sons, C. G. Everson and company, Brandt Linen company, Plymelt Products company, Crane company, Scholle Furniture company, Nahigian & Bros., The Hub, Compton's Picture Encyclopedia, Celotex company, Hartman Trunk company, C. D. Macpherson, Illinois Life Insurance company.

On Basement Floor

On the basement floor are found the more utilitarian appliances, displayed by the following concerns:

Bohn Syphon Refrigerator, Frye

Home Utilities, The Stover company, Frigidaire, Kelvinator, North Shore Gas company, A B C Oil Burners, Sidley Home Utilities, Wilson & Scott, Crane company, Public Service company, Kitchen Aid manufacturing company, McIlvaine Oil Burner corporation, Puro Filters, H. N. Blasius company, Edward Strenger, Vic C. Killian, Inc., Royal Vacuum Cleaner, O. K. Vacuum Brush.

Backed by Federation

Although the work of federation is being done by the finance committee of the Highland Park Woman's club, it is also in line with the most important current project of the General Federation of Woman's clubs throughout the country in stressing the value of the American home.

Club women everywhere are urged to support this project by their interest and attendance. A nominal admission charge, is being made to the general public, though club women may obtain tickets through their own organizations. The hours of the exposition are from noon to 10 o'clock in the evening, on the three days of its continuance.

Janet Chatten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Chatten, 1025 Dinsmore road, and Marjorie Winterbotham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Winterbotham of Oak street, were joint hostesses Saturday afternoon, October 2, from 2 until 5, at a party given for a number of their young friends in celebration of their birthdays, which occur the same week.

Mrs. Daniel J. Coyne, 830 Chestnut, Wilmette, and Mrs. Harry Redfern of River Forest were hostesses Monday at the luncheon given at Marshall Field's tea room for the wives of the butter and egg men who came for the convention this week at the Drake hotel.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

W. F. Waxler, connected with Adams Pharmacy, was expected to return Thursday, October 7 from the Evans-ton hospital, where he was taken for treatment. Mr. Waxler contracted an infection in his eye which needed hospital attention.

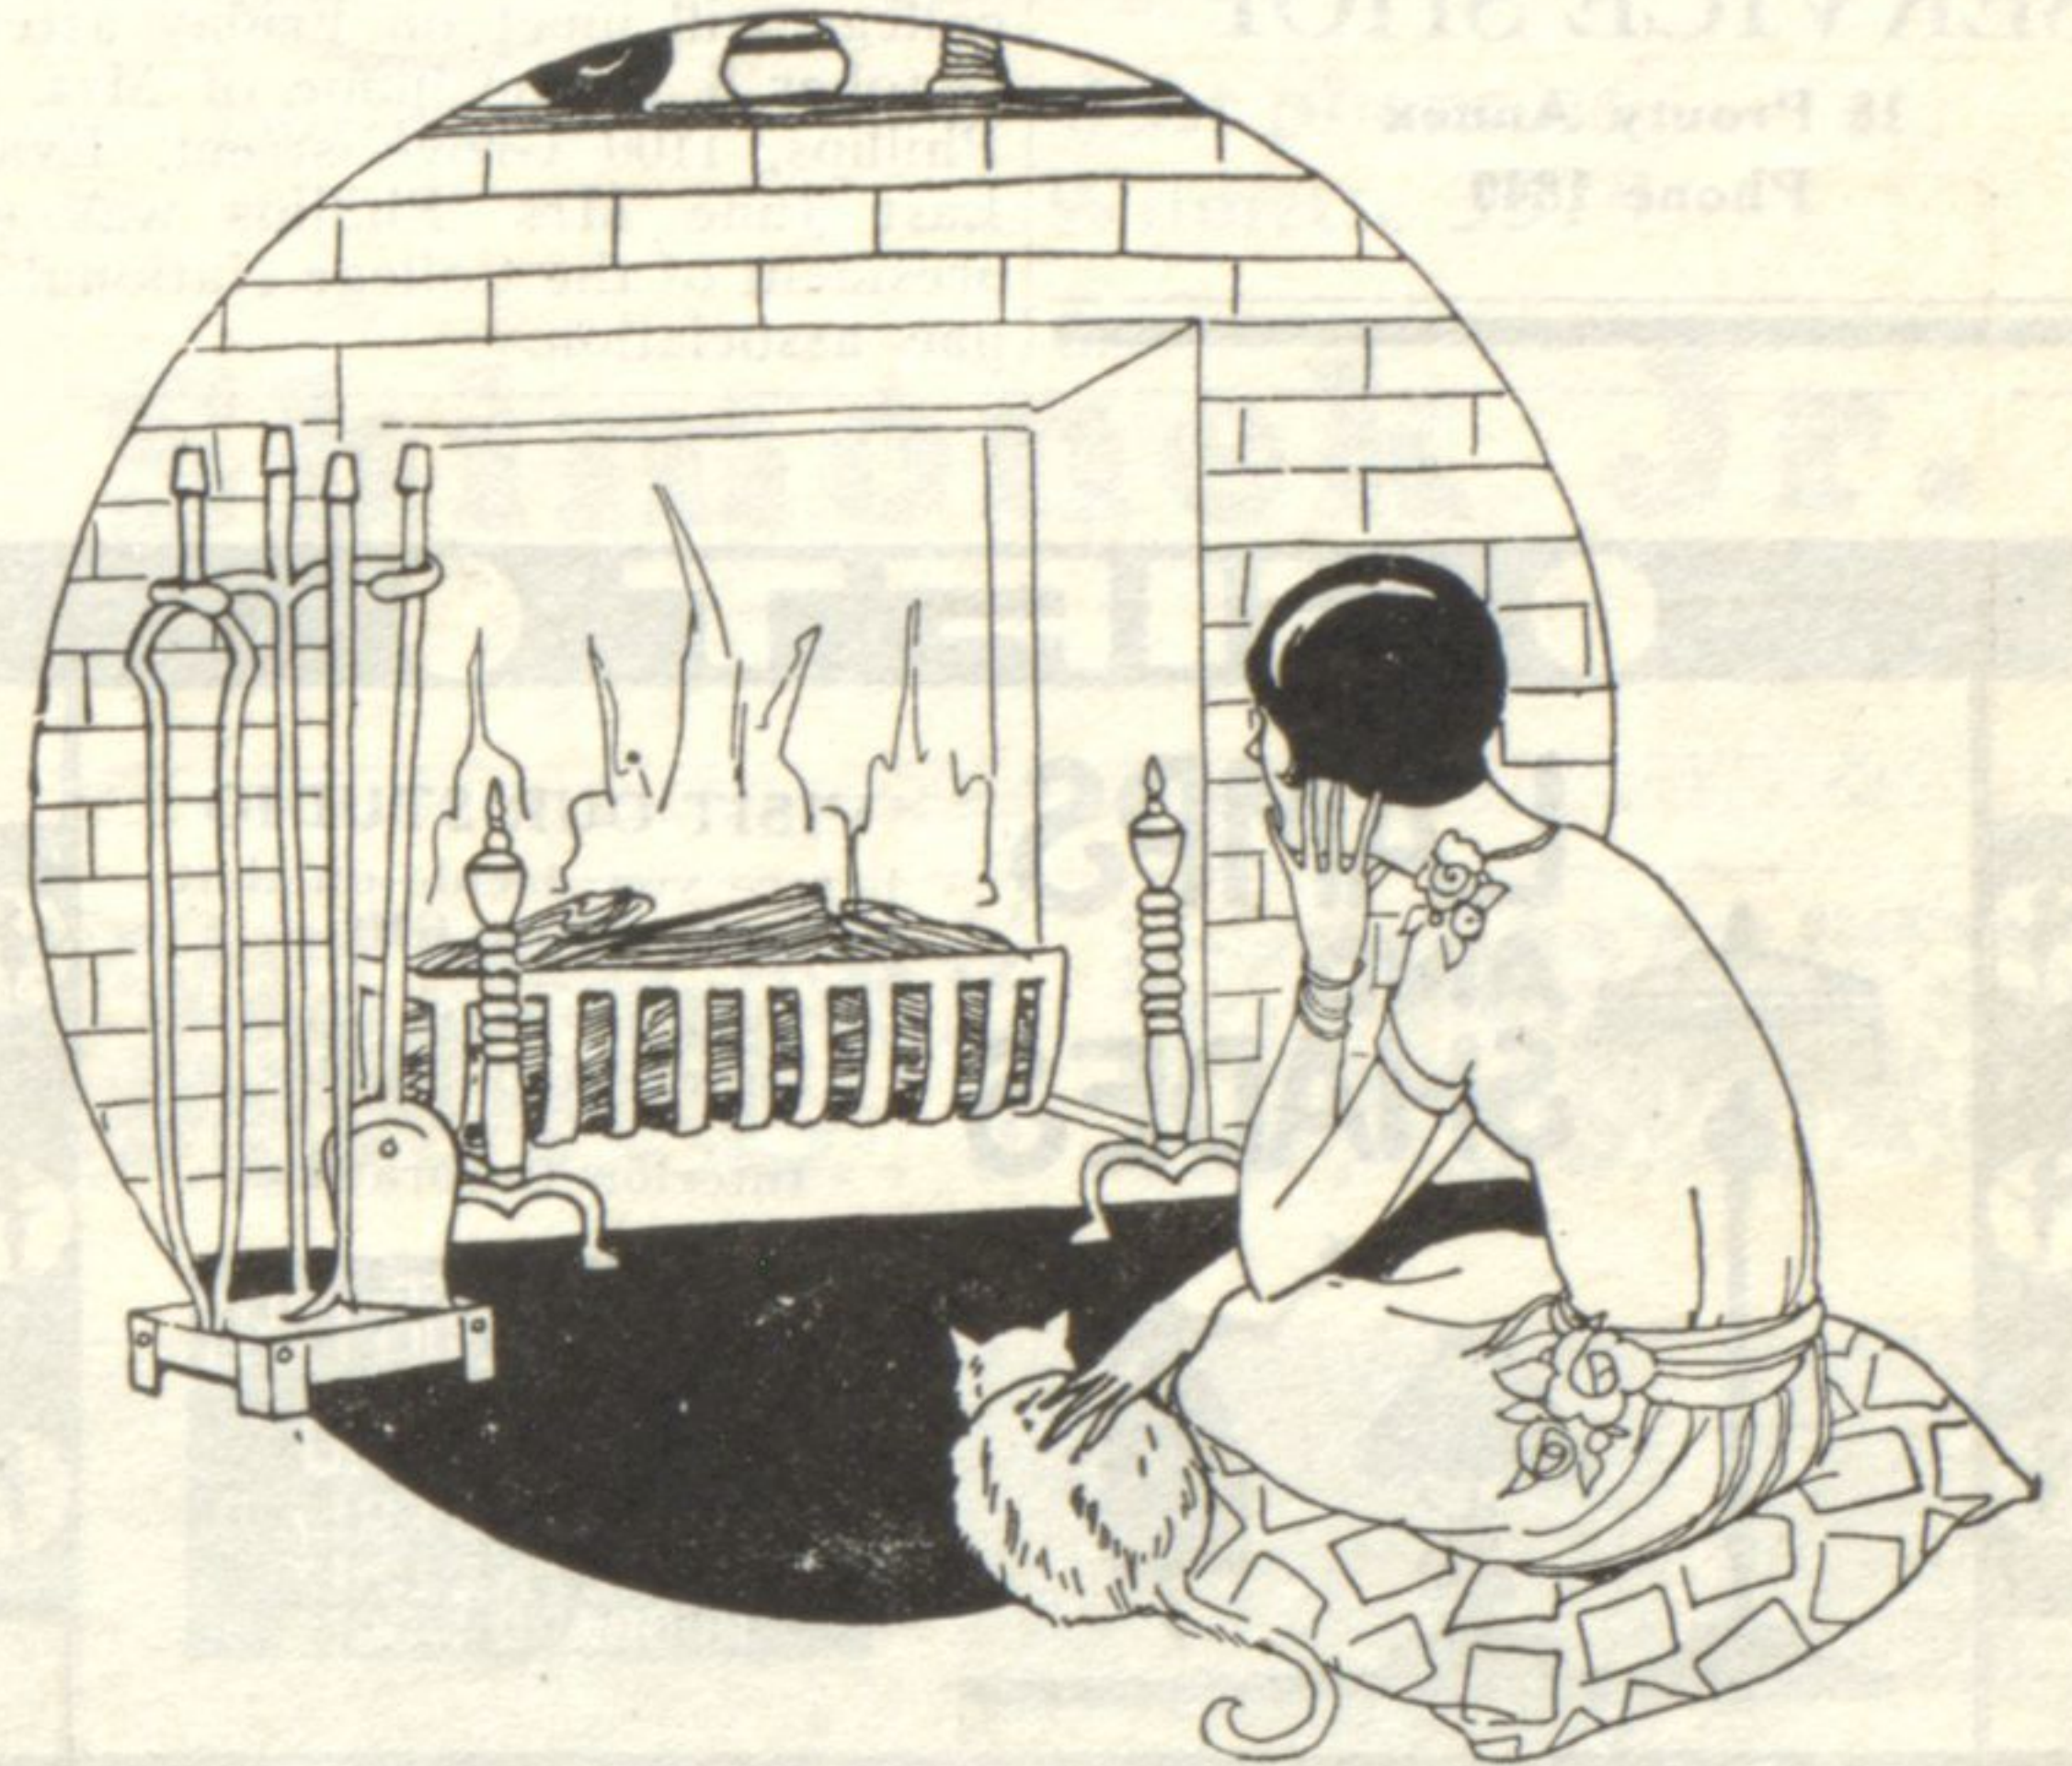

Mr. and Mrs. F. Schwall, 797 Cherry street, have rented their home and will spend the winter in Los Angeles, Cal. Mr. and Mrs. William Brand, 585 Lincoln avenue, have accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Schwall, who left last week to drive to the coast.

When There Comes That Time of the Evening That Lies Between Twilight and Dark

You will enjoy home all the more for a fireplace where dreams grow in the glowing embers or coals of the grateful fire as its rays dance out through the room.

We can equip your room with a complete fireplace, or with andirons, dogs, sets of fire irons, screens and hods at prices that are to your liking for what you have in mind.

An Electric Heater That You'll Like

Graceful in design. Instantaneous in a wide, warm glow of heat. Economical on the electric meter. Just the thing for the dressing room, the bath room, or to take the chill off while the house heat is coming up.
