

Gives Lecture on Child Nurture Saturday, Oct. 16

Dr. M. V. O'Shea, well known author and lecturer on the subject of child study and training, will speak on "The Child in Present Day American Life" at the opening meeting of the Central Council of Childhood Education, to be held in Fullerton hall, of the Art institute, Chicago, at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning, October 16.

Dr. O'Shea holds the position of Professor of Education in the University of Wisconsin, and is recognized as an international authority on child study and training. He has lectured extensively, both at home and abroad, and is the author of numerous books, some of the best known of which are, "Dynamic Factors in Education," "Social Development and Education," "First Steps in Child Training," "Everyday Problems in Child Training" and "Our Children." He is also editor and joint author of "The Child, His Nature and His Needs," compiled by the Children's Foundation for the purpose of presenting in readable form the knowledge which has been acquired by scientists and specialists in various fields of child education.

The meeting is open to the public, and any one interested in education is cordially invited to attend the lecture.

Open Stately Mausoleum at Acacia Park Cemetery

"There is no death!" This inspired epitaph has been emblazoned on the tombs of kings and peasants alike for ages. No more fitting eulogy to that traditional belief can be presented in the description of the new edifice located in Acacia Park cemetery in Chicago, it is said. Within the confines of this beautiful park cemetery a marvelous structure, dedicated to the purpose of making morbid death over into a pleasant slumber amid delicate and exquisite surroundings, nears completion.

The new mausoleum is described as the most beautiful of its kind in the world. It is an impressive structure, substantially built of Georgia marble with exquisite and artistic taste.

A chapel furnished in excellent taste, with pipe organ and chimes. Family rooms, crypts and urns, are of uniform size and in perfect harmony with the surroundings.

KNOW ILLINOIS

Illinois has nearly 30,000 Boy Scouts, ranking third of the states.

On January 1, 1926, Illinois had 16,900 producing oil wells—an increase of 169 during 1925.

The five largest candy factories in Chicago together use 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas annually—enough gas for a city of 6,500 people.

A game called "rolly polly" is played by farmers in Henry County. It was brought to this country from Belgium. The game consists of rolling heavy wooden discs at a stake. Scoring is similar to horseshoes.

A motion picture film of the activities of the Eucharistic Congress, including the transporting of 240,000 persons between Chicago and Mundelien, will be made a part of the records of the Vatican.
