ANNOUNCES LECTURES

Rev. James Austin Richards of Congregational Church to Talk on Gospel

BY THOMAS A. GOODWIN

Casey and Finnegan were discussing what they should give their friend Murphy for Christmas. "Let's give him a book," suggested Murphy. "There's no sense of that," replied Casey, "he's got a book."

The average individual, when urged by his pastor or Sunday school teacher to read the Bible, thinks, with something of Casey's viewpoint, that there is no need of that, he has already read it. He fails to realize the unlimited rewards that come to the earnest student of the Bible. The people who get the most joy out of a visit to the museum of art are those who have studied art; the people who most appreciate the concert are not those who have never been to one before, but those who go again and again, and pursue a serious study of music between times. So, too, the joy of the Bible is not for the casual and superficial reader, but for those who come again and again to its pages, and who seek to learn all they can about the Bible so that they may better understand it. There is no limit to the help, the pleasure, the interest, and the truth which the reverent and earnest student finds in the Bible.

Repeated inquiries at various times and in many localities have revealed that the most read Book in the Bible is the Gospel of John. It is this most helpful book which Rev. James A. Richards has chosen for the subject of his Tuesday morning lectures, October 12 to November 16, at 10 o'clock, in the Neighborhood room of Community House. The titles of his talks are as follows:

- October 12. The Author, his method, his purpose. Chapter XXI.
- October 19. The Preface, Jesus and Judaism. The Word, the Baptist, the New Birth. Chapters I, II, III.
- October 26. The Universal Jesus. The Samaritan Woman, the Lord's Supper. Chapters IV, V, VI.
- November 2. Darkness and Vision. Jesus the Light, the Shepherd, the Son. Chapters VII, VIII, IX, X.
- November 9. Jesus our Victorious Life. Lazarus, the Anointing, the Foot-washing. Chapters XI, XII, XIII.
- November 16. The Finished Work. The Death, the Resurrection, the Second Coming. Chapters XIV, XX.

The significance of the subject matter, together with the reverent scholarship and lucid style of the speaker, make this series of addresses an opportunity all who possibly can should avail themselves of, and everybody is welcome.

British Program Marks Inaugural of Music Season

The home of Mrs. Truitt in Deerfield, Ill., was the setting for the first meeting of the North Shore Musical society this season.

The presence of the Townsend String quartet as guest artists greatly added to the enjoyment of the program. This quartet composed of Winifred Townsend, first violin; Gertrude Early, second violin; Charlotte Polak, viola, and Lois Bichl, violincello gave a splendid demonstration of fine ensemble work. Following the program refreshments were served.
