Change Name of New Trier High School Boys' Club

The Tri-ship Boys club is the new name for the New Trier high school club formerly called the Hi-Y. The three "ships" stand for Fellowship, Sportsmanship and Citizenship, while Tri also means Trier.

It has been thought for sometime that since this organization is not affiliated with Y. M. C. A. the name ought to be changed.

A new constitution will be written bringing out the change in purpose of the club. New plans will be designed.

STRICKLAND GILLILAN COMES TO SUNDAY CLUB

Famous Humorist, Poet, Lecturer to Address North Shore Audience October 17

Stickland Gillilan, humorist, poet, philosopher and lecturer, will give the address at the Wilmette Sunday Evening club Sunday, October 17.

Mr. Gillilan, who spoke before the Sunday Evening club last season with telling success, is described as "neither a genius nor a marvel, nothing but a perfectly normal man who has done the best he could—which is what not one person of a thousand does." His earlier years fraught with difficulties, he gradually rose by dint of sheer labor and perseverance to the position where he is now found as contributor to scores of the leading periodicals in the country.

"Normal Human"

"There is nothing pessimistic, bitter, erotic or cynical about what Mr. Gillilan writes," states one critic of his works. "He aims, as he says, 'to put into constantly understandable language the sort of things the right kind of people think and feel.' Human normality has been the keynote of all he has written and said."

"He is as dependable as a Rolls-Royce and as democratic as a 'fliver,'" comments another critic. "Every year he confides to the management that he is 'about to learn how to do this thing.'"

"No Need of Gloom"

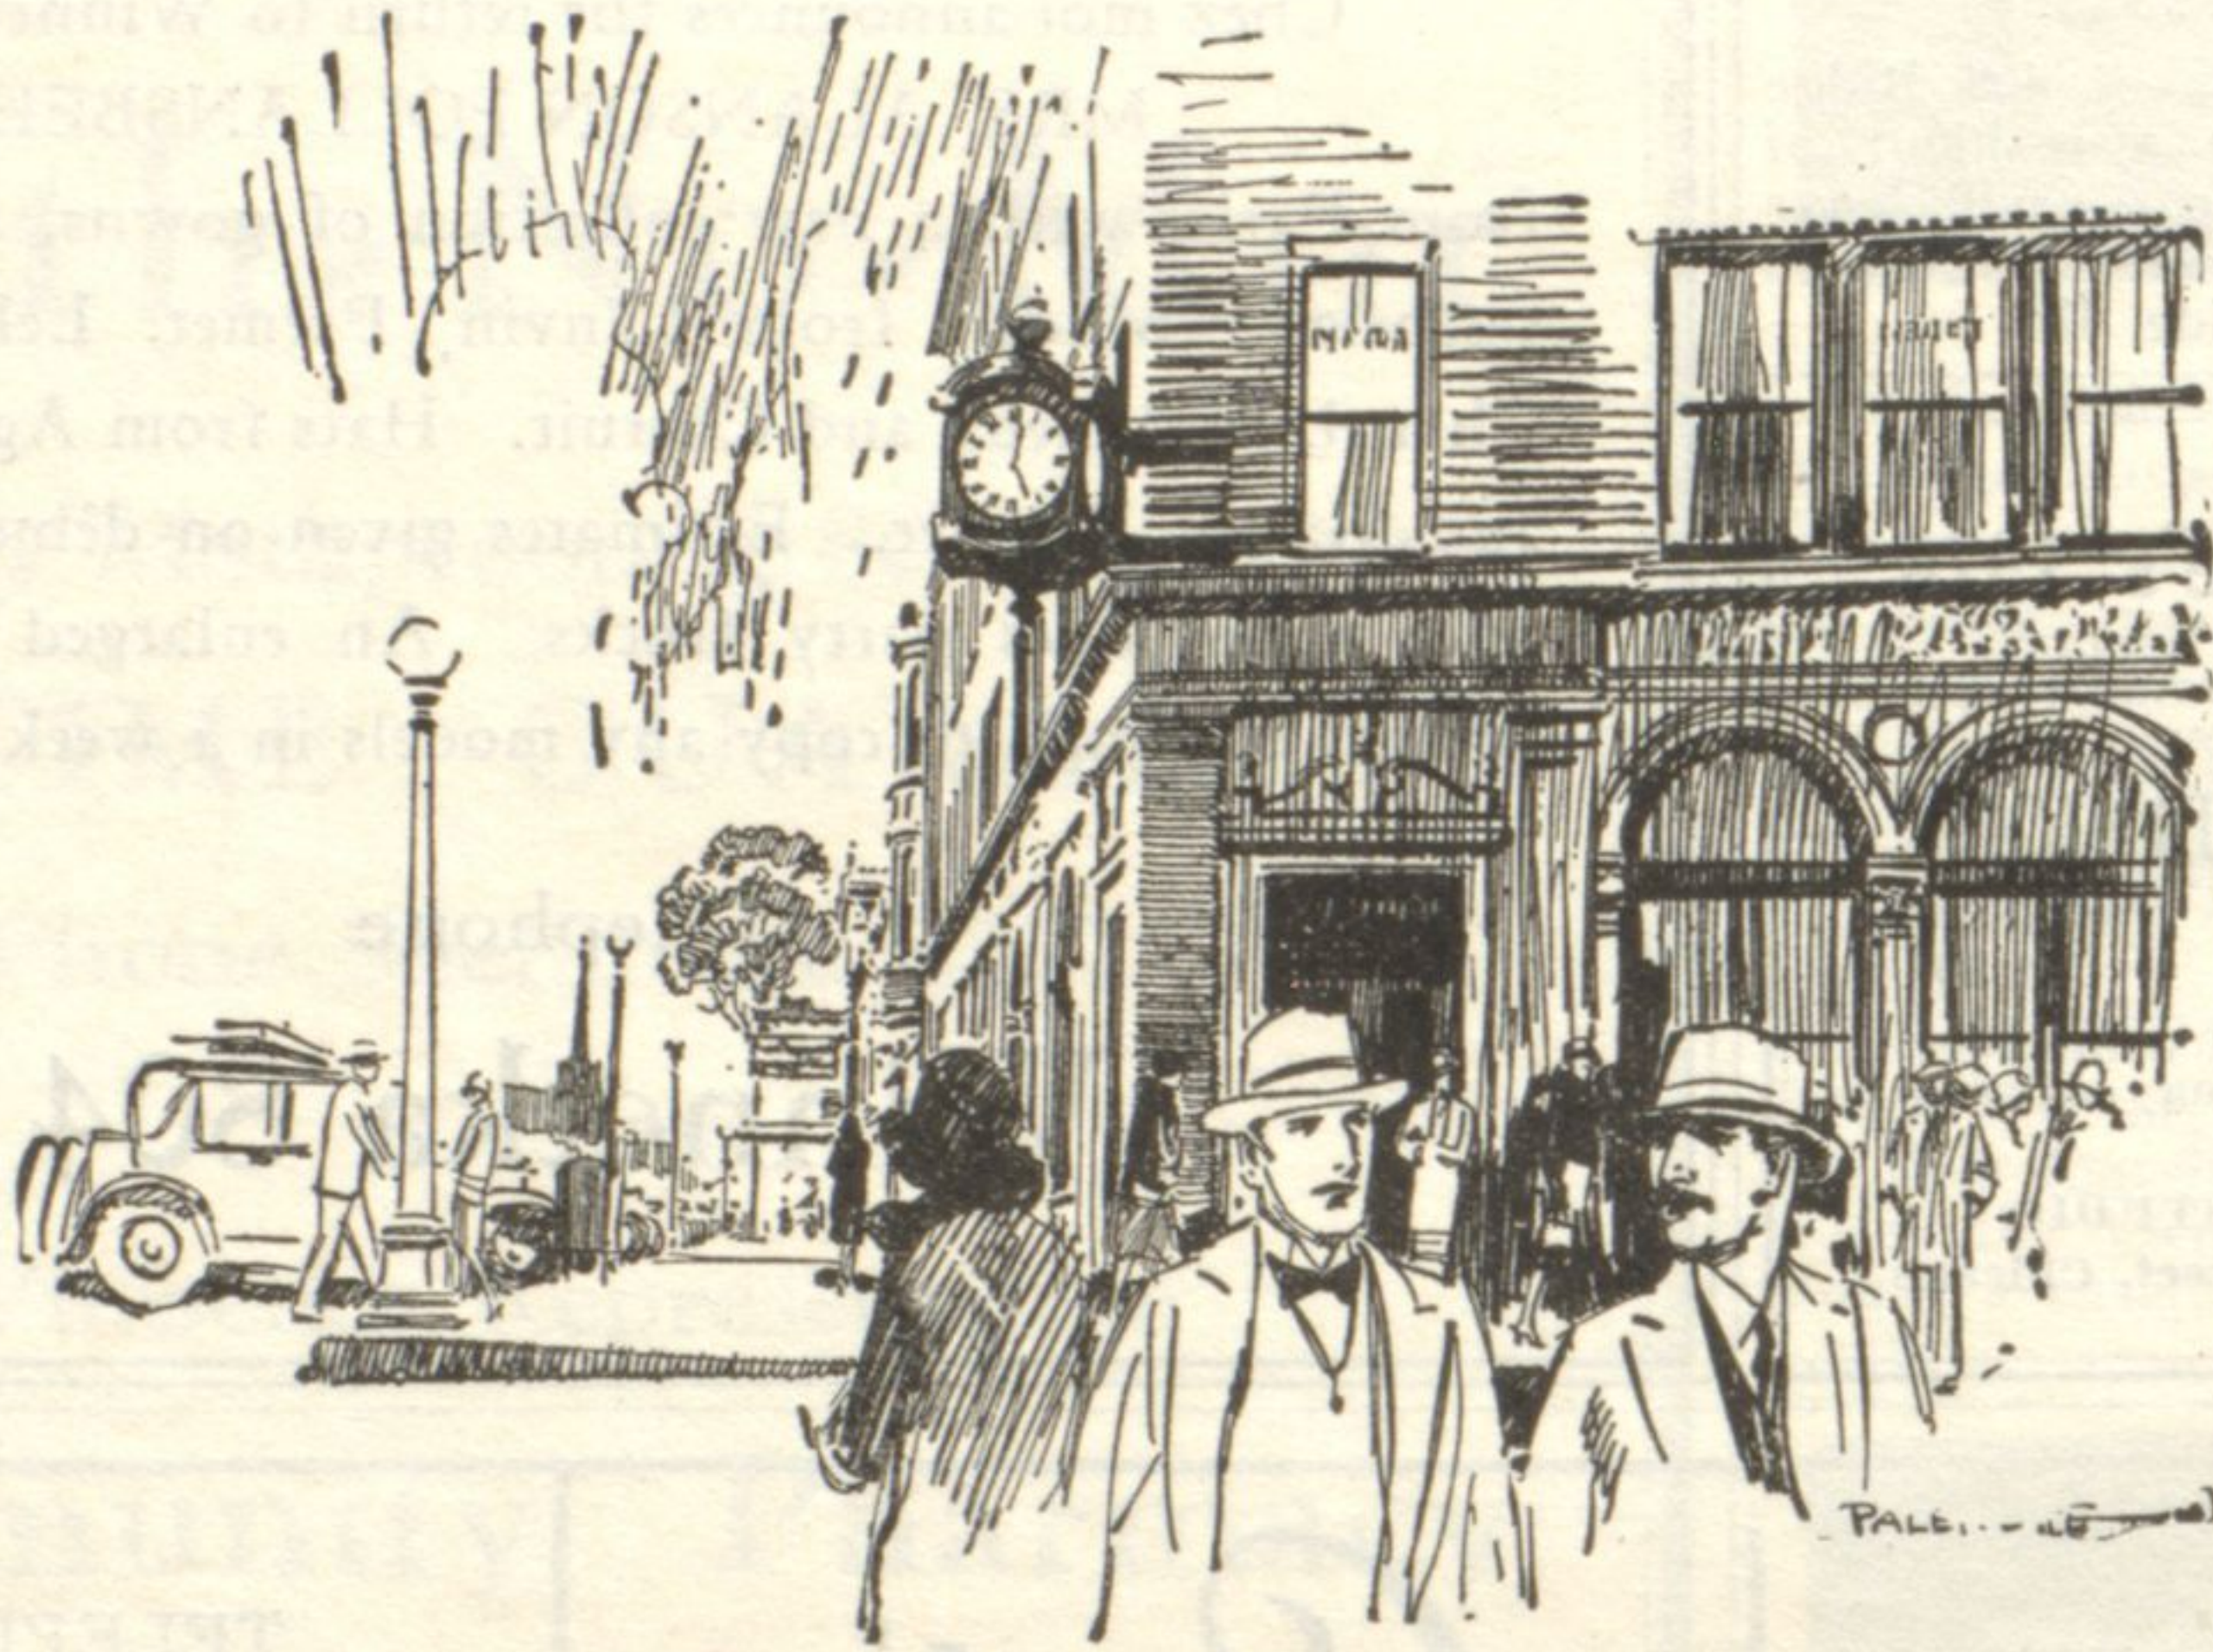

"One thing about him has never changed—his purpose to be funny without being silly, and to be deep without being dull. He has always believed that serious things are not mournful things, that there is no need of fear and gloom in the world; that crises are to be faced, confessed, but not feared; that truth tickled into people stays there much longer than if it were sobbed into them.

"In oratory, he holds that the only man who needs to yell and glare at an audience is one who doesn't know clearly enough what he is trying to tell them; that if you are really sure of a thing, you can tell it in easy words, with the directness and ease of conversation. 'In my entire lyceum career I haven't sweat a quart ranting an audience,' he says."
