

Muenzer Trio in Initial Concert of Chamber Series

(By Musie Crittle)

The writer arrived at the Muenzer Trio recital in the middle of the first movement of the opening number, which happened to be Schubert's always delightful Trio in B Flat Major, Opus 99. It was being played with the technical ability and artistic feeling characteristic of this group of musician, Hans Muenzer, violinist and leader, Hans Koelbel, cellist, and Rudolph Wagner, pianist. The tones from the three instruments blended into a most harmonious and beautiful ensemble, holding the happy attention of the audience to the very close of the all too short program.

The second and last number was the Quartet in E Flat Major, Opus 87, by Dvorak. It was in marked contrast to the Schubert number. Where the latter was rather sweet and smoothly melodious, the Dvorak composition was alive with sprightly rhythms and near-Oriental phrases. The audience demanded and were given an encore, a classic selection, which sounded like Haydn. In this encore as in the second program number the viola part was played by Fred Rittner.

A capacity audience was present to enjoy this, the beginning of the 1926-27 season sponsored by the North Shore Music association. The next recital will take place on December 12, at 4 o'clock, in the Kenilworth Assembly hall.

Mrs. John Linck of 1346 Scott avenue is taking part in the activities of the Vesper Rebekah Lodge, No. 172, which is giving a luncheon, card and bunco party, Tuesday, November 2, at 1222 Wilson avenue, Chicago.

What a pity if you still think of Pierce-Arrow ownership as the privilege of the wealthy few only.

Today, due to the development of a 130-inch wheel-base chassis—the Series 80—you can afford fashionable Pierce-Arrow transportation if you can afford a $1500 to $2000 car.

At our display rooms you will find rich, luxurious, hand-built, Pierce-Arrow enclosed cars at prices ranging from $2995 to $3450. These are the new custom-built coaches, with appointments and upholstery of traditional Pierce-Arrow excellence—and your choice of six charming body colors. A demonstration trip should prove interesting. Call on us or we will call for you, as you wish.

—body by Pierce-Arrow

The Pierce-Arrow built six-cylinder, 70-horsepower engine of this Series 80 chassis gets 14 to 17 miles per gallon out of gasoline. 15,000 to 18,000 miles per tire is usual. Mechanical attention, rarely needed, costs little due to national Pierce-Arrow Flat Rate Service. Balloon tires, Pierce-Arrow four-wheel safety brakes and Houdaille shock absorbers are standard equipment.
