

1867 Bournique's 1926

Dancing Department
Private classes personally conducted by

ALVAR L. BOURNIQUE

Evanston Chicago Winnetka
Oct. 18 Oct. 19 Oct. 20

New families accorded membership when presenting satisfactory references.

OFFICE and STUDIO
1134 N. Dearborn Street, Chicago

Expect Motorists to Approve Bond Issue

"The motoring public may be expected to voice their approval of the $15,000,000 bond issue when it is presented at the polls on November 2, if they vote like they talk when they are held up for hours at intersecting roads, twenty and thirty miles from the metropolitan district proper," says Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club. "As a result of too many cars on a narrow road, every Sunday trip reveals cars in the ditch, making Monday one of the busiest days for the coroner.

"The Board of County commissioners has been responsible for building the county highways and it is generally conceded, has handled the immense task in a satisfactory way. Miles of hard roads have been built after the standard set up by the state highway commission and the Bates road tests thereby reducing maintenance charges and using the money that otherwise would be needed for high maintenance in the construction of greater mile-

CHICAGO FORUM OPENS SECOND YEAR SUNDAY

Program for Season Is Announced by Harold I. Ickes, Forum Council President

The second season of the Chicago Forum will open Sunday afternoon, October 31, Harold L. Ickes of Hubbard Woods, who is the president of the Chicago Forum council, announces. The meetings this year will be held at the Erlanger theater (formerly the Palace), at Clark and Randolph streets. Fred A. Moore will continue to preside and conduct the question period following the addresses of the speakers.

The program will be featured by the discussion of current issues as well as several economic, political and other public questions.

At the opening meeting on October 31, the conflict between the state and church in Mexico will be discussed by Alva W. Taylor of Indianapolis, well known nationally as a leader in social work among the Protestant churches and a friend of President Calles of Mexico, and Charles Phillips, author and playwright, member of the faculty of Notre Dame university and an active Catholic layman, directly acquainted with conditions in Mexico.

The meeting on November 14 will be a symposium by three prominent Chicagoans, whose names will be announced shortly, on the question, "Is Politics a Curable Disease?" The speakers will be expected to give some constructive solutions to the problems of getting citizens to vote, to have more confidence in government and public officials, and to feel that American democracy is on the up grade instead of declining, as so many critics contend.

Other speakers during the season will be Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., of Wisconsin, John Haynes Holmes of New York, William Allen White of Kansas, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Kirby Page, Sidney Hillman, Harry Elmer Barnes, author of "The Genesis of the War," reviewing the new evidence on the war guilt question; Mordecai W. Johnson, the new and first negro president of Howard university in Washington, the largest negro cultural school in the country.

Debates will be conducted on such questions as "Shall We Abandon the Direct Primary?" "Open Shop vs. Closed Shop," "Shall the U. S. Give Immediate Independence to the Philippines?" "Can Capitalism Be Made Safe for Democracy?" "Shall We Register Aliens in America?"

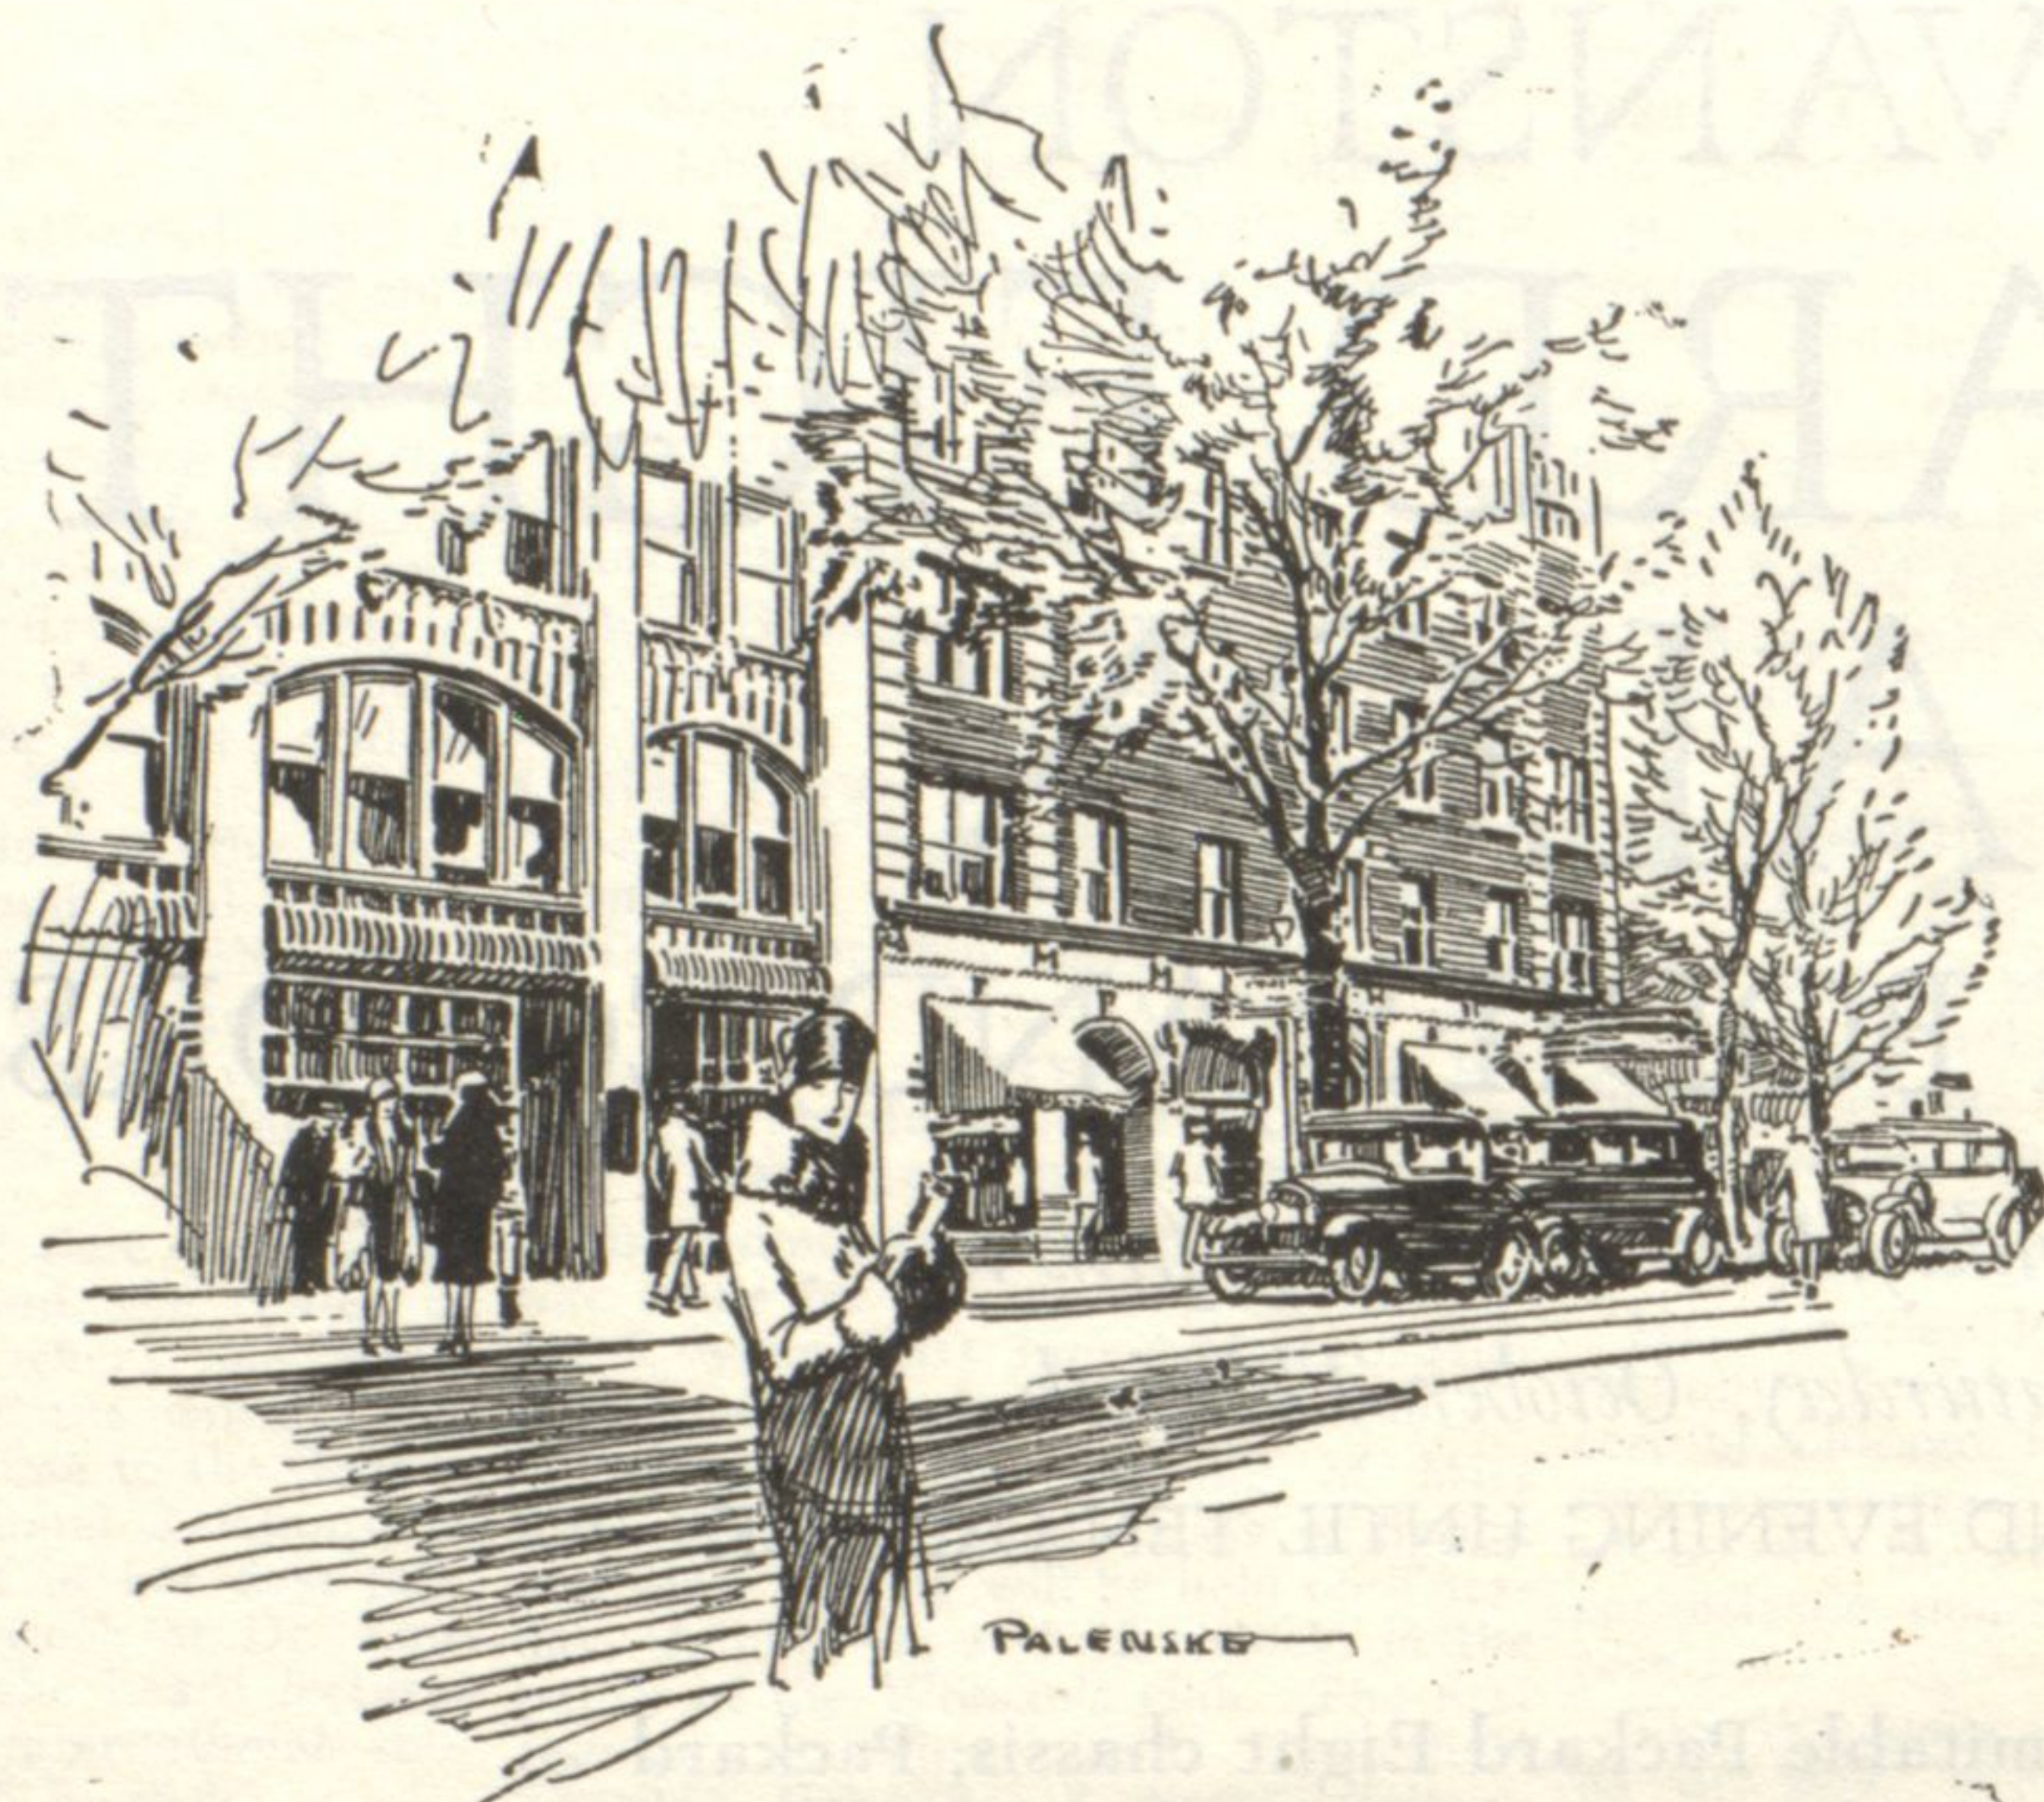

On the Sunday following Christmas the Forum will conduct its annual meeting devoted to promotion of tolerance and social goodwill with Catholic, Jewish and Protestant speakers, and racial and national singing groups contributing folk songs.

The complete program for the twenty-two meetings can be obtained from the Chicago Forum Council, 19 South LaSalle street, it is explained.

Wilson Decamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Decamp, 615 Abbottsford road, Kenilworth, came home last weekend for the Northwestern-Indiana game. Three boys from the Sigma Chi House were his guests over Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Edwards of Los Angeles, arrive Monday, October 25, for a few days' visit with Mrs. Edwards' niece, Mrs. Burt A. Crowe, 234 Raleigh road, Kenilworth.

Mrs. Robert M. Beckler, 632 Abbottsford road, will entertain at dinner on October 29, on the evening of the Hallow'en dance at the Kenilworth club.

Finding Treasures

North Shore shoppers require quality, fair prices, and discriminating choice of merchandise. They shop in Evanston.

It Pays to Shop in Evanston
EVANSTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Copyright, 1926, Evanston Chamber of Commerce