R. E. Crosby Constructs Beautiful Georgian Colonial at Kenilworth for Market

By E. T. SELBY

One of the late season building improvements in Kenilworth will be the fine Georgian Colonial residence which R. E. Crosby, the well known north shore builder with offices at 566 Center street, Winnetka, will erect on Robsart road near Abingdon road, on a lot 75 by 160 feet.

Ground will be broken the first of next week and work will be pushed as rapidly as possible in order to get the structure enclosed before cold weather arrives.

Mr. Crosby has built many fine homes throughout the north shore area the past season, but the one designed for his Robsart road improvement will be among the finest, and in keeping with the high grade development in this section.

It will be constructed of variegated red bricks, topped with a gray slate roof. One of the many features will be a large sun room to the south of the living room, to which it will be accessible through a large arch and up one step from the sun room floor.

In addition to five bedrooms, there will also be a large heated sleeping porch directly above the sun room.

There will be four bath rooms. The one off the master bedroom will also have a separate shower, and a plaster arch over the bath tub.

The plans call for a most attractive breakfast room, with cove ceiling and there will be a two car attached garage.

Mr. Crosby announces that he is building for the market and the price will be about $47,000.

University Guild's Art Exhibit Will Close in Ten Days

"Art is long and time is fleeting," and the representatives of the University guild would emphasize the statement in reference to the October art exhibition, now hung in the ballroom of the Orrington hotel, to have only about ten days more to hang.

Today members of the Drama group will view the exhibition following the luncheon at the Woman's club which will open their season. Last week groups of students from the art department accompanied by Miss Anna Hong, and girl scouts, accompanied by Miss Miriam Heermans, visited the showing.

Posters will be distributed in Evanston and among the north shore towns this week, attractive announcements made by Miss Ethel Coe of the Art institute and art department of the university. Miss Elizabeth Robertson is supervising their distribution in Glencoe, Highland Park and Ravinia; Mrs. Joel Hunter in Winnetka; and Mrs. Lawrence Lawson in Evanston. The November loan exhibit from Evanston homes will be in charge of Miss Coe and Miss Jessie Lacey.

The guild hostesses at the showing for this week include the following:

Monday—Mrs. Irving S. Cutter, Mrs. Samuel Sackett; Tuesday—Mrs. Mortimer Allen; Wednesday—Mrs. Sackett, Mrs. Alexander Moseley; Thursday—Mrs. Sackett, Mrs. Allen; Friday—Mrs. Ralph E. Heilman, Mrs. William B. Johnson; Saturday—Mrs. Walter Spry, Mrs. Ralph S. Crandall. Mrs. Sackett, Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Wilder A. Pickard are the week's co-chairmen.

The Misses Hazel and Helen Frazer, 645 Abbottsford road, went to Champaign last week-end for the Illinois-Iowa game.
