

Forum to Discuss State and Church Feud in Mexico

"The Conflict between State and Church in Mexico" will be the subject for discussion at the opening meeting of the Chicago Forum next Sunday afternoon, October 31, Fred A. Moore, director of the Forum announced this week. The speakers will give frank interpretations of the claims and objectives of both parties to the conflict.

Alva W. Taylor of Indianapolis, a leader in Protestant church circles but equally widely known as a student, investigator, and interpreter of social problems, will give the side of the government in Mexico. Dr. Taylor was the leader of "a goodwill mission" to Mexico this summer and was in Mexico City during the height of the crisis. He has visited the country several times previously and attended the inauguration of President Calles.

Professor Charles Phillips of Notre Dame university, an eminent Catholic layman, will interpret the claims of the church. He, too, knows Mexico intimately and is thoroughly familiar with the trend of affairs below the Rio Grande. Professor Phillips is well known as an author and playwright of distinction and is a speaker of unusual ability.

Following the discussion will come the usual question period in which the audience will have an opportunity to challenge either speaker. This is a feature of the Chicago Forum that commands lively interest.

The Forum is to meet this year in the Erlanger theatre (formerly the Palace) on Clark near Randolph, Sundays at 3:15. Fred A. Moore will continue as chairman of the meetings.

Little ten year old Mary Louise Laird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Laird of 225 Ridge avenue, is in the Evanston hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis, which took place October 25.

Mrs. Louise M. Thompson, who has been visiting a daughter at Minneapolis, Minn., will return to Winnetka to be with her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Bayless of 786 Locust road.

Would Join Bolm Ballet With Civic Enterprises

Not alone for the beau monde but for the people would Adolf Bolm dance if Chicago accepts his challenge to make the ballet a civic enterprise along with the opera and the Symphony orchestra. The ballet, which opened the new season of the Allied Arts Sunday at the Eighth Street theater, would probably attract a large following as a civic undertaking.

Adolf Bolm would probably attract the large audience that he would dance for because, although dancing may be as high a form of art as that of the opera, its lighter and more informal spirit holds an appeal for the greater number of people.

This informality of the ballet draws to it musicians and artists with things that are new to the times and easier to adapt to the ballet than to the opera and drama with their traditions to maintain. Among the artists who in this way have turned their attention to the ballet are Anisfeld, Matisse, Laurencin, Covarrubias, Roerich, Goncharova, Picasso, Robert Edmond Jones.

The North Shore group of the Chicago Women of Rotary gave a benefit card party Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Seubold, 921 Sheridan road. SPLENDID RECORD Wins Support for P. J. CARR

County Treasurer P. J. Carr's brilliant record as a capable, business-like and efficient public official, has won him remarkable support in his candidacy for Sheriff.

As County Treasurer, he turned over to the people of Cook County, all of the interest earned on public funds, totalling over $6,000,000, a greater amount than the combined total of his predecessors.

Mr. Carr has pledged, when Sheriff, to make our highways absolutely safe; among other means, by installing a complete system of police patrol boxes thru the entire out-lying district of Cook County. His record of genuine service guarantees the fulfillment of his pledge.

Mr. Carr's election will insure honest, vigorous and capable administration of the Sheriff's office.

Now Is the Time to Smash the Tax Ring

Harry Kohl, Democratic Candidate for Member of the Board of Review, is making a successful two-fisted campaign for election to that office.

He is showing that loop property owners are being favored at the expense of small home-owners and renters.

He charges that loop property is being assessed at a valuation of about 7% of its real value, whereas, the assessed valuation on the small home-owner is 50% of its actual value. In other words, the thousands of small home-owners in Cook County have to carry the burden of an enormous increase in taxes so that the favored loop interests may receive great slashes in their assessed valuation.

Mr. Kohl contends that there are about 500,000 families that should pay taxes in the City of Chicago. Due to 10% being favored by the present tax assessing body the remainder are obliged to pay for the "cuts" obtained by the favored few. He further holds that if the privileged class paid its just share, a reduction of 10% of the taxes for the small home-owners could be made at once. Mr. Kohl pledges, if elected, to see to it that the "little fellows" instead of the "loop interests" are accorded his protection.

The Democratic Candidate for this office, Harry Kohl, is married and has three children. He believes in his own name, a small cottage at 1838 N. Lowell avenue. He is at present Chief Boiler Inspector for the City of Chicago, a personal appointment by the Mayor of Chicago.

He deserves the united support of voters regardless of partisan politics.
