WINNETKA PROMINENT IN FIRST GUILD PLAY

Also Misses Hanks, Sanford,
Mrs. T. Marshall, H. P. Williams, H. Mertz, R. Bentley

J. Williams Macy and Oliver Grover of Winnetka are playing important parts in the production of "Autumn Fire," by the North Shore Theatre guild. Mr. Macy last played with the guild in the "Duenna" in which he excelled all of his previous performances. "Autumn Fire" furnishes him greater opportunity for acting than any of the former plays. He is playing the title and leading role.

Miss Grover has not appeared with the guild since "Come Seven" five years ago, although she has appeared in many productions in Winnetka. Other people of the cast are Julia Hanks and Helen Sanford who have played together in "The Enchanted April" and "Outward Bound." They are as experienced and able actresses as the Guild has and with Mr. Macy and Miss Grover, make a strong nucleus for a powerful cast. Mrs. Thomas Marshall of Lake Forest, Henry P. Williams of Glencoe, and Hawley Mertz are in the cast.

In First Guild Role

Richard Bentley of Lake Forest is playing a most important part. It is his first appearance with the guild but judging from his rehearsals, it will not be his last.

Membership tickets may still be procured from Mrs. Enos M. Barton, chairman of the Winnetka Committee. Although these are for two admittances to each of the four productions this season, yet they are usable for any production or performance of the year. This has been arranged as a convenience to those members who are going away for the winter months and who wish to use all of their tickets for one performance or two.

Performance at Club

A recent change in the place for the Wilmette performance has been made. Hereafter, the Guild will perform at the Ouilmette Country club instead of the place given on the membership tickets. The date of the Wilmette performance has been changed to Tuesday, November 16.

We're Enjoying Super- Fine Health Hereabouts

Winnetka enjoyed almost perfect health during the month of October according to Health Officer C. C. Schneider, who submitted his regular report to the village authorities this week. Regarding health conditions during the month Dr. Schneider writes:

"There were reported during October only two cases of whooping cough and one case of chicken-pox. The two cases of whooping cough were both in the same family, and the case of chicken-pox was immediately removed to a hospital in Chicago, thus making only one home in the Village of Winnetka that was placarded and quarantined during the entire month of October. There were no other cases of communicable disease in the village."

Women Voters Gain New High Mark of 1,000 Memberships

The Winnetka League of Women Voters passes 1,000 in memberships, the league is glad to announce. Up until Tuesday of this week, 260 new members had been reported by Mrs. George Suker, membership chairman of the Winnetka league.

New memberships and renewals are coming in every day, so the number may have increased since Tuesday. Ten precinct chairmen, and over one hundred block captains were at work, and these same women also worked untiringly to get the voters out on election day.

The league provided checkers with the league poll books who were stationed at all polling places and kept track of women voters. Others were busy at telephones or with cars, transporting people.

The tags that were given each voter were free, much to the surprise of hurried business men who hide when they see a tag. Last minute posters were put in conspicuous places to remind Winnetka people of their duty to vote.

Invite Parents to School to Observe Educational Week

American Education week will be celebrated next week throughout the country. The lower schools in the village will have visiting week and hope to have every father and mother visit school in session during the week.

Horace Mann will have a special meeting on Tuesday, opening at 2:30 with Assembly given by the children, followed by a talk by Miss Frances Dummer on her work in the school. Questions and discussion are particularly invited. Tea will be served following the program and every mother is urged to attend.

Last Thursday, an unusually jolly party was given by a committee of the faculty at the Hubbard Woods school. First on the program was a saophone followed by puns on current events solo entitled "Syncopated Sobs," which called "Brain Throbs." A solo dance a "Fashion Show." The committee Animated Antics, came next, and then was greatly indebted to the following Winnetka women for costumes loaned for the fashion show: Mrs. Carter H. Harrison for a trunk full of old-fashioned gowns, Mrs. Warren Agry and Mrs. Arthur Duncan, for quaint frocks, and Mrs. George Calkins for a sport costume from her shop.

The kindergarten room was decorated with Hallowe'en colors as a restaurant where ice-cream, cake and coffee were served, and horns given as favors. The party ended with a dance in the assembly room.

Twins—Boy and Girl— Arrive at Goodwin Home

Twins, a son and a daughter, were born Wednesday morning to Rev. and Mrs. Thomas A. Goodwin, at the Evanston hospital. The lusty little son weighed into life's battle at six pounds, six ounces and was christened, Paul Newcomb, and the little daughter, with a recorded weight of six pounds, five ounces was given the pretty name of Muriel Louise.

GOLD STAR MEMORIAL WORKERS GO ON SHIFT

Canvassers From Village Hall
Headquarters Work Day and Night to Raise $37,000

Headquarters for the Winnetka War memorial have been opened in the Village hall, where workers are at hand dividing their time into two shifts, the first of which is from 8:30 o'clock in the morning until 5:30 in the afternoon, the second from 5:30 o'clock to 10:30 in the evening.

The work being done on the card catalogue of 2,500 names taken from the water and light list was completed this week, and the cards are being used to direct the high powered canvass now in progress in the village. George B. Massey, general chairman, and Heyliger A. deWindt, chairman of the finance committee, intend to get a contribution from every household in Winnetka. It looks now, they state, as if they would succeed because of the quick response to their call for assistance.

The following groups have volunteered to furnish canvassers: The American Legion of Winnetka, The Winnetka Men's club, and The Triangle club. All men wishing to work on the canvass, whether members of the above groups or not, are requested to call at the headquarters in the Village hall where they will receive instructions and an envelope of only twenty-five cards giving addresses of persons in one or two blocks, so the work will not be difficult.

Tuesday afternoon a model of the memorial was shown to a large audience at the Winnetka Woman's club where Miss Jane Addams spoke. Mrs. Arthur W. Cushman the president, spoke about the beautiful idea embodied in the design for the memorial and, from the hearty response of the audience, the support of the Woman's club seems assured.

"How much ought I to give?" is the question now most constantly heard in the village. And the answer from the committee is that each person should give to the Winnetka Memorial according to his means. Everybody should give as much as he can without hardship. Some prefer to spread the payments over several months and in that way they can give more to make possible the beautiful memorial to our gold star men.

Children to Help in Memorial Fund Drive

Every room in the schools of Winnetka is now organized to collect funds to pay for the flagstaff and platform of the Winnetka Memorial, the committee announces.

In this way the boys and girls have a definite aim, so that it has been suggested that funds collected in the schools be set apart exclusively to pay for the flagstaff and platform, and, if possible, a tablet or some appropriate marker be put up to show future generations that these parts of the memorial were paid for by the boys and girls of our day.
