

man and his work and his play and his environment. And best of all he is with his family and his family enjoy him. Dad will get the thrill he needs in wrestling matches with his youngsters; when they bury him in the sand and race him in the water. If the water is too cold, there will be the indoor pools, properly heated and cleansed, both winter and summer. Outside there will be winter sports where the frost tang sends the blood tingling with energy properly expressed in the true sportsmanship of play between proper companions.

And the memberships are theatre tickets for life!

The plan of the club is ideal. It is run as a business institution, restricted to the service of members only. It does not depend upon "public spirit" for its operation. A definite income guarantees continuous operation. Experienced club personnel brings efficiency. No assessments, no dues, and what is best of all, no liability to the members.

Small wonder that over a thousand members were enrolled in a few weeks!

L. W. Foster, Well Known Piano Tuner, Falls Dead

L. W. Foster, known to north shore residents as a piano tuner, dropped dead as he rose from the supper table at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lucas Van Allen, in New York, week before last.

Mr. Foster, who was seventy-five years old, was living with his sister in their old homestead which they had bought back from other owners. Mr. Foster was a resident of Wilmette for thirty years. He lived on Park avenue. He was buried in the East.

Mr. Foster leaves no immediate family. His wife died about twenty-five years ago. He was born in New York city, and in his youth spent in the East he was a piano maker. His father was a publisher in Kansas City for a time.

Eight Girls' Hockey Teams Practice at Skokie School

The best evidence of the interest taken in hockey by girls at the Skokie school, is the fact that there are eight complete teams practicing when weather and the Skokie field permits.

There are four middle-weight and four light-weight teams which will play up until Thanksgiving time, if the weather is good.

DR. ELY TALKS IN WEST

Prof. Richard T. Ely, director of the Institute for Research in Land Economics and Public Utilities at Northwestern university, has been making a trip to Pacific coast regions in the course of which he delivered addresses before the Oregon Reclamation congress at Hood river, the University of Oregon at Eugene, where he also attended the installation of the new president, Dr. A. B. Hall, and the Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis. He also visited San Francisco and Los Angeles before returning last week to Evanston.

STUDENT CARS A PROBLEM

The large number of cars which are used by students to bring them to and from classes has created a parking problem in the vicinity of the university, and although President Scott announces that the cars will not be barred he urges the drivers to obey city regulations. Parking on Sheridan road is confined to certain areas and must be obeyed, he pointed out. Many other schools have prohibited students from using cars, but this action will not be taken at Northwestern, according to President Scott.
