

Lee Says:

LOTS of people
 AROUND Winnetka are
 HAVING Grippe or
 THE Flu, or whatever
 YOU want to call it—
 SOME call it names
 WE couldn't possibly
 PRINT in a nice family
 NEWSPAPER like the
 WEEKLY TALK—
 BUT if you haven't had
 IT yet, we'd suggest
 AS just plain common
 SENSE precaution that
 YOU spray the mouth and
 NOSE frequently with one
 OF our standard germ
 DESTROYERS like Lavioris,
 LISTERINE, Rexall-Gargle
 ETC.—
 WE have the atomizers.
 TOO.
 HOWEVER, if this suggestion
 REACHES you too late, and
 YOU already feel the
 THING comin' on, better
 CALL your family doctor
 AND go right to bed—
 DON'T take any chances.

Miss Andreina Materassi, the young Italian artist who is visiting Mrs. Enos M. Barton of 978 Euclid avenue, will make her first American concert appearance in a piano recital in Fine Arts hall, in the Fine Arts building on Michigan avenue, Wednesday evening, November 17. Miss Materassi made her professional debut, which was a brilliant success, in Italy about two years ago. A number of the Civic Opera artists are patrons of her concert on November 17.

BUYS BREWSTER PROPERTY

Kenneth G. Smith, residing at 1236 Asbury avenue, has recently purchased from Edwin F. Brewster the fifty foot lot immediately adjoining his property on the west. This gives Mr. Smith a residence frontage of 150 feet. McGuire and Orr was the broker in the transaction.

Donald Hanchett Jeffris Dies Suddenly at Home

Donald Hanchett Jeffris died suddenly, of heart trouble, at his home, 811 Bryant avenue, Monday, November 8. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the Rev. James Austin Richards of the Winnetka Congregational church, at the chapel, 1610 Maple avenue, Evanston. Burial was at Janesville, Wis.

Mr. Jeffris, at the time of his death, was an advertising executive connected with the Kling-Gibson company, 310 South Michigan avenue, Chicago.

He was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and a graduate of Beloit college and the University of Wisconsin.

His widow, a daughter, Ann, his mother, Mrs. David K. Jeffris and two sisters, Mrs. Warren E. Clark and Mrs. Richard W. Farmer, survive.

Day School Master to Help Establish School in Michigan

Perry Dunlap Smith, head master of North Shore Country Day school, was asked to assist in the establishment of a new school, recently, in Michigan. The name of the school is the Cranbrook school, and it is located at Bloomfield Hills, a suburb of Detroit.

George Booth, owner of the Detroit News, has endowed the school very heavily and enabled them to start the buildings which are now half completed. Building is under the direction of the architect who was runner-up in the competition for the Tribune tower award.

Mr. Smith was asked to speak on "Progressive Education," before the board of trustees who are giving hearings to a series of discussions of all types of education, before decision is made as to what kind of a school the Cranbrook school is to be.

300 New Trier Boys Want Spare Time Jobs

Wilmette and Winnetka Rotarians have been asked to co-operate with the New Trier High school Tri-Ship club—successor to the Hi-Y club—in establishing a clearing house that will provide work for high school boys in their leisure hours.

The club has established an employment bureau and stands ready to provide boys for part time work for business people or householders of the north shore. The boys are prepared to do all manner of work, it is announced. Three hundred boys at the school are listed as in need of spare-time employment, according to Robert Burrows, who explained the purposes of the organization to the Rotarians.

By this time next week I will have left Winnetka, so what stock and equipment I have, I am letting go at very low figures, as I will not store anything.
