

Winnetka Observes Armistice Day In School Ceremonies

Armistice day was observed in Winnetka, where the banks and the post office were closed throughout the day. Flags were displayed from many residences and business houses.

A firing squad from Fort Sheridan marched from headquarters of Winnetka post No. 10, American Legion, under the flag and the Legion banner, to the steps of the village hall, where at 11 o'clock they fired three volleys and sounded taps. The flag and the Legion colors were then taken by the color bearers to Skokie school.

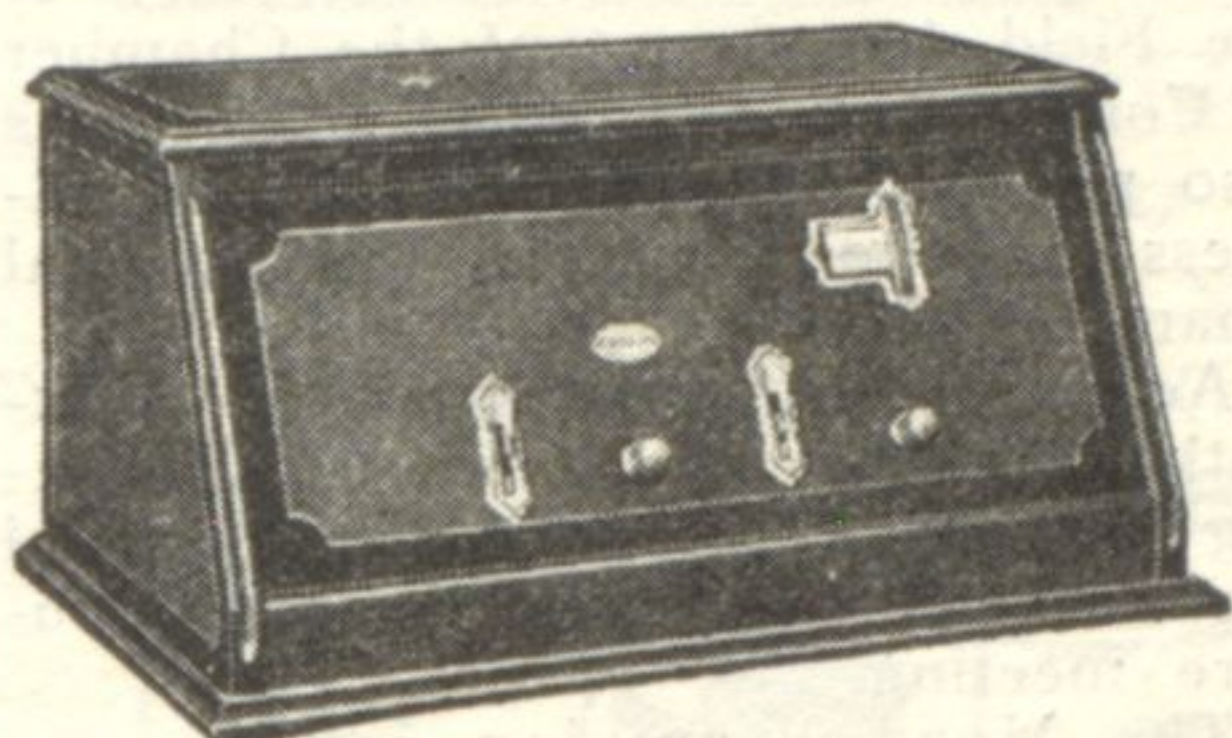

At Skokie school the Armistice day program was under the direction of H. P. Clark, director of physical education, who was in France during the war. The service while brief was very impressive. The pupils came to attention at the sound of the bugle, saluted the flag and repeated the oath of allegiance. They remained at attention while taps was being sounded in honor of those who lost their lives during the war. Immediately following, Rev. Thomas A. Goodwin, of the Congregational church, described briefly the situation in the trenches when word of the signing of the armistice came to the men. Rev. Goodwin was an officer in the marines at the outbreak of hostilities and later was in the infantry in France.

Mr. Clark was also in charge of the Armistice day program at the Horace Mann school. There the children stood at attention for two minutes while the clock struck eleven. Mr. Clark explained that the armistice was signed at eleven o'clock and also told of how the event was received in France.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ware, 325 Abbottsford road, left Kenilworth Thursday of last week for New York. They sailed from New York on Sunday for California by way of the Panama Canal. They expect to arrive in California December 1.

H'WOODS BEAUTY SHOP MOVES

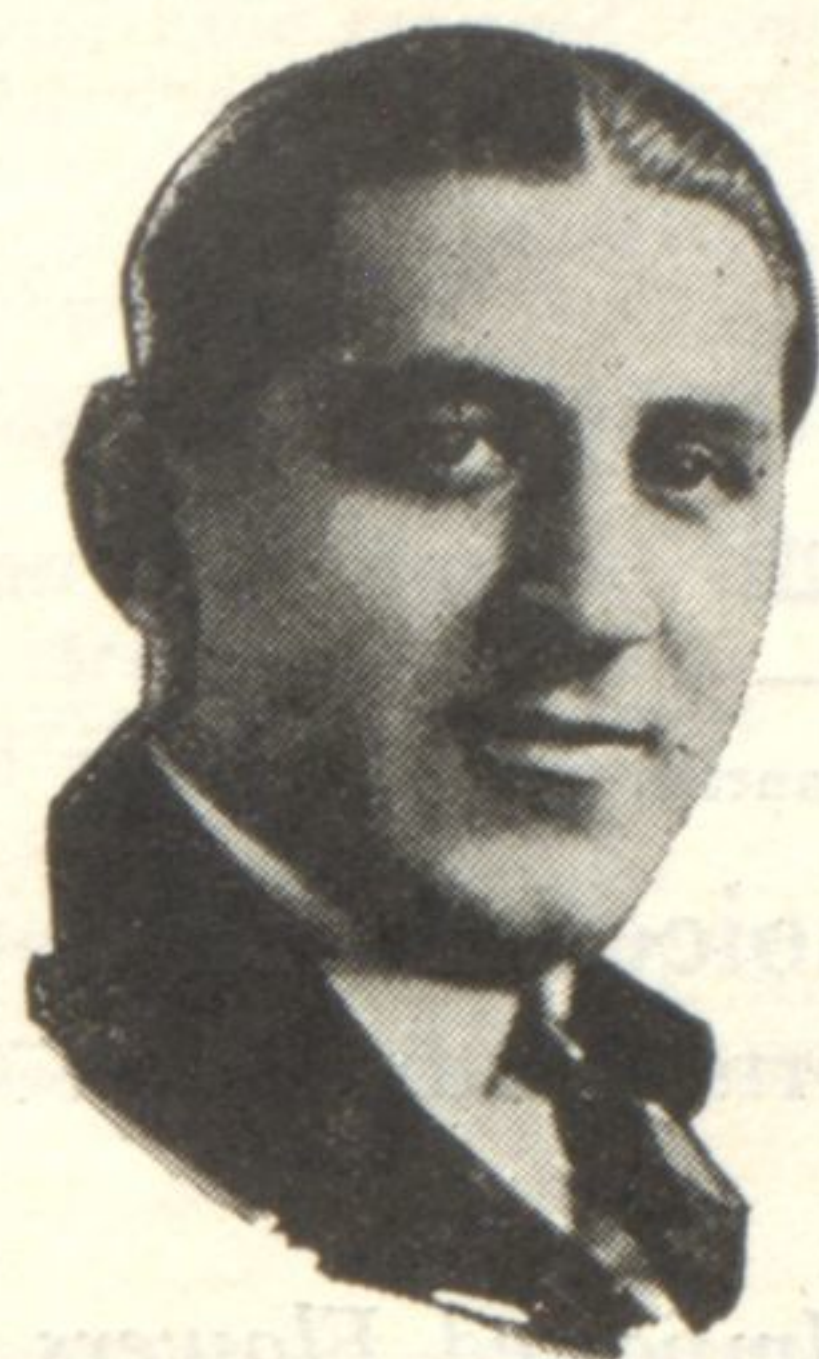

The Hubbard Woods Beauty shop has moved from its former second floor location to the room immediately adjoining the Bert Snales barber shop at 1081 Gage street and will be operated in connection with it. All women and children's bobbing will be done in the beauty parlor and both men and women barbers will be at their disposal. This service is offered as a departure from the former custom in which the service of male barbers could only be had at a regular barber shop and is offered as a result of the protests made against the inconveniences of joint barbering of men and women.
