VILLAGE THEATRE

"Millionaires," with George Sidney, famous as Abe Cohen in "The Cohens and the Kellys," is sure to provide laughs enough to shake the sides of even the late Solomon Grundy. It is a story of simple kindly folks from New York's east side, newly rich and trying to "roll" their way into society and finding it "hard rolling." To be shown Monday and Tuesday, December 6 and 7.

"The Marriage Clause," is a story for every type of fan, the amusement seeker, for its many light movements; the thinker, on account of its depth of characterization; the drama lover, for the wealth of color and description of the lives of a group of stage players. It is a scene behind the scenes, a tale of the theatre, and stars Francis X. Bushman and Billy Dove, two of the greatest stars in filmdom. On Wednesday only.

"Men of Steel" is one of Milton Sills' greatest productions. It is filmed in a modern steel plant and more than 2,000 steel workers and their families take part in some of the big scenes, aiding in making the picture the masterpiece that it is. To be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 9, 10 and 11.

THE NEW EVANSTON

Appearing in the role of a guard on a New York subway, Jack Mulhall, featured with Dorothy Mackaill and Charles Murray, carries a leading part in "Subway Sadie," now showing at the New Evanston.

In "The Magician," which follows "Sadie" at the New Evanston next Monday, the Fair of Lion de Belfort, the famed French carnival of Paris, a typically French festivity, forms important scenes. The entire company making this picture was taken to Paris to work in the Fair and was one of the attractions of the celebration while there. Alice Terry carries the leading feminine role. The entire production was made in Europe.

THE NORSHORE

Rex Ingram's well remembered screen classic, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," one of the greatest films ever produced by the industry, has returned in triumph in response to a flood of requests from patrons all over the country.

This picture, unsurpassed as an artistic record of its time, and the film that brought the late Rudolph Valentino to fame, came Sunday to the Norshore theater. Valentino plays opposite Alice Terry in it, and does some of the best work he ever contributed to the screen.

An enormous cast was employed by Director Ingram in translating the popular Ibanez novel to the screen. Its first showing aroused much enthusiasm in New York, Chicago, Boston, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Los Angeles and other film centers, where it was characterized by the critics as one of the great pictures of all time.

THE CAMPUS

A motion picture directed by a woman, in the person of Lois Weber, is on the screen today and tomorrow at the Campus theater, starring Francis X. Bushman and Billie Dove. The showing is "The Marriage Clause," and the cast includes also Warner Oland, Grace Darmond and others.

When the bill changes Saturday the presentation will be that of "West of Broadway," starring Priscilla Dean, an adaptation of a Red Book story, "New York West." A new screen story written by the author of "The Volga Boatman," comes Monday and Tuesday of next week with the showing of "For Alimony Only," starring Leatrice Joy.
