

OPERA'S SIXTH WEEK

"Tiefland," Celebrated Eugen d'Albert Opera to be Given Next Thursday; Muzio Sings Lead

The sixth week of the Chicago Civic opera season at the Auditorium theatre will bring the long promised production of "Tiefland," by Eugen d'Albert, an opera that has gained universal popularity in Europe. The two-thousandth performance of "Tiefland" was recently celebrated in Berlin, and the opera was chosen as the season's premiere for five of the leading opera houses in Austria and Germany where it ranks in popularity with "Carmen." Like "Carmen" the opera has a Spanish setting and the plot is taken from Guimera's novel, "Marta of the Lowlands." This opera will give Chicago its first opportunity to hear Claudia Muzio sing in English, for "Tiefland" will be sung in the vernacular. Some of the most popular operas of the repertoire will be given repetitions during the week.
