GIVE UNIQUE PARTY

Black bordered invitation cards and envelopes cleverly written in negro style were sent out by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley H. Simpson of 1040 Starr road, for a New Year's Eve party at their home. The guests were to come with black faces and in costume to celebrate the mock marriage of "Pulchritudinous Eliza Jane to the Renowned and Stupefactiveous Rastus Johnson. All fashionable colored gentry will be in attendance. No white trash admitted. 1040 Milky Way (Starr road)."

PLAN STAMP EXHIBIT

The Stamp club of New Trier High school is inviting its friends on the north shore to attend an exhibit it is to hold at the high school Tuesday, January 18. Collectors of stamps are especially urged to view this exhibition.

Music Club Recitalist

Guiomar Novaes, world famous South American pianist, is to appear in recital at the New Trier auditorium Monday evening, January 3, under auspices of the Winnetka Music club. This is the third recital of the current Artist-Recital series sponsored by the Music club. The name of Guiomar Novaes has been synonymous with brilliant pianism since this youthful South American made her debut in this country a little less than ten years ago. She has appeared with tremendous success throughout Europe and the Americas.

Civic Concerts to Be Midwinter Season Feature

Four concerts are in prospect for the midwinter music season under the auspices of the Civic Music association of Chicago, of which Herbert E. Hyde, well known north shore organist is secretary. The Chicago Orchestral association is also interested in the concerts which are to be given in Orchestra hall.

The first program of the series is scheduled for January 30 and the others will follow on the last Sundays in February, March and April. The concluding program is to be in the nature of a gala event or annual festival in which a chorus of 1,000 Chicago playground children will have an important part.

Frederick Stock and Eric De Lamarter, conductors of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, will direct these concerts.
