

COSTUME CARNIVAL ON ICE BIG EVENT

Skokie Country Club Rink Scene of Gay Event for Children;
Repeat February 5

Costumes of varied types and hues flashed in colorful pageantry last Saturday afternoon as children entered in the Skokie Country club ice carnival vied with one another for the honors of the day. Flashing in and out over the glass-like surface, scenes reminiscent of bygone days were brought to mind as Monsieur whirled with Fraulein and Mein Herr glided with young Mistress. It was a gala occasion.

Weather conditions were ideal and a program, consisting of a grand "skatanade," numerous races, a tug of war, and fancy skating contests, had been arranged for and were conducted by Fred C. Weed, assisted by Frederick W. Hill, Harry Curtis, Wallace Templeton and James C. Baker. "Andy and Pete" had prepared the ice the night before and it was "plenty slick."
