This Plumber Steps Out to Prove He's Diligent

A snappy looking, gun-metal blue Ford truck, manned by George Muir, jobber for Vic Killian has been equipped and will be known as "My Shop at Your Door." Muir is the jobber who dashes about the villages repairing stuttering faucets and choking pipes. And when it comes to leaks and "bursts and duds," he is also on hand. Rather than make the traditional plumber's trips back to the shop, Muir will have everything a jobber needs in his new and blue truck, it is said. New faucets, bends, all types of bathroom and kitchen fixtures are in his truck, the object being good service, and quick.

NORTHBROOK EXTENDS BOUNDARY 800 ACRES

Neighboring Community to the Northwest Votes Favorably on Annexation

The election which was held at Northbrook on January 4, on the proposition to annex approximately 800 acres lying east of that village, carried almost unanimously, the total number of votes for the proposition being 142 with only eight against it.

The former eastern boundary of Northbrook was about a quarter of a mile west of Lee road, and by the result of the recent election it is now extended to the Kotz road, almost to the west limits of the village of Glencoe. The new Northbrook territory now takes in the new Skokie valley line on which Northbrook station is located, and Northbrook, President R. Lauer, announces, is making plans for development of the new territory.

Northbrook, under the official guidance of President Lauer and his fellow officials, has gone forward more rapidly, perhaps, than any of the other North shore villages, and very certain it has grown more and expanded more in the past two or three years than it did in its entire previous history covering many years.

And President Lauer says there are still many large things under way to keep pace with the rapid growth which the village is experiencing.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Murray, 433 Cumnor road, left Kenilworth Wednesday for Pasadena. They plan to stay at The Maryland.
