N. U. Professors Publish in National Periodicals

An article, "Because of the Children," written by Prof. Wendell S. Brooks of the School of Education, Northwestern university, appears in the current issue of "School and Society."

An enlivening commentary on "College and the Exceptional Man" by Bernard De Voto of the university faculty, appears in the January issue of Harper's. Mr. DeVoto has appeared in print frequently within the last several months in Harper's and the New Mercury.

Dr. John Timothy Stone at Sunday Club Jan. 16

Dr. John Timothy Stone, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, Chicago, will be the speaker at the Wilmette Sunday Evening club January 16. His subject will be "An Illustration of Faith." Dr. Stone is one of the best known ministers in America. He spoke to a large audience at the Wilmette Sunday Evening club last year. Miss Marie Zandt will be the soloist.

Another capacity house greeted the Branson De Cou "Dream Pictures" last Sunday. It was one of the most delightful evenings in the history of the club, it was stated.

BASIL SYDNEY APPEARS AS GUILD DRAMA STAR

fourteen scenes, including, the bedroom of the palace, the road on Gads Hill, the tavern scenes, and several characteristic Shakespearean street and battle scenes. "Henry IV" offers a large opportunity for music, and songs of the period are interspersed through the play. The costumes are all being made to order, and will greatly excel those of "Fashion" and "The Duenna," which have caused so much favorable comment in past years.

Strictly Elizabethan

The production is to be strictly Elizabethan. A reproduction of the old Elizabethan theater has been designed and produced by Aleya Burtis, of Northwestern university. The historical accuracy of the setting, with its inner and outer stage, will give an atmosphere, and a flavor, which is rare in Shakespearean productions of today. Not for twenty years has there been a performance in this country which has used the original Shakespearean production. Even Ben Greet used simple scenery with screens, and not the Shakespearean background of inner and outer stage and balcony.

On account of the lavish scale on which this production is to be made, there will be an advance in the prices charged non-members for admissions, at the door. It is still possible, however, to become a member of the Guild, and secure all the privileges of Guild membership for this and future plays, by applying to John Allen Stewart, 1003 Grove street, Evanston. For the benefit of school children, a special matinee performance at popular prices will be given, Saturday afternoon, January 22, in the Jane Kuppenheimer Memorial hall of the Skokie school.

On October 1, 1778, the territory conquered by Colonel George Rogers Clark of Virginia was made the Illinois territory by the state legislature of Virginia.

Northbrook Acreage Sold for $1,500,000

One of the largest real estate transactions in acreage ever recorded on the north shore is said to have been made recently, at Northbrook, Glencoe's neighboring village to the west, where approximately 250 acres within the north corporate limits of the village sold for a reported $1,500,000.

The land was owned by Anthony Batek and is said to have been purchased by real estate interests whose plan is to subdivide the tract.

Northbrook, as recounted elsewhere in this issue, voted almost unanimously at a recent election to annex 800 acres lying to the east of the former village limits.

This new territory and the reported purchase for subdivision purposes of the Batek tract, evidences great future possibilities for that village.

and now that you have time to think—

Think of Cleaning

The rush and crush of the holiday and party activity is over, at least there is enough lull in social matters, so that small matters of personal detail can be given consideration.

The necessity of looking one's best does not vanish with the social lull. Contacts continue; the clothing must continue to be an asset in making the man or woman appear best.

And now that you have time—go over each garment, and let the cleaner present you with a new wardrobe, so to speak. You know we know how.
