Building Permit Records Belie Frigid Temperature

A. B. Krieg, Winnetka building inspector, issued permits for three new residences in the village the past week, regardless of the fact that the ground is covered with a nine inch snow.

The three permits totalling $36,000 were issued to the E. T. Leonard company, for a two-story frame and brick veneer residence of eight rooms and attached garage at 512 Orchard lane, costing $14,000; to Harry Bengston, for a two-story frame and brick veneer residence at 1503 Edgewood lane, costing $14,000, and to Edgar Crilly, of 375 Sheridan road for a brick residence with garage attached, the residence for servants' quarters and the improvement, as shown by the permit, costing $8,000.

South African Educator Addresses Church School

John L. Dube spoke at both sessions of the Church school of the Winnetka Congregational church, Sunday, telling of his work in South Africa. Mr. Dube is a grandson of a powerful Zulu chief. He is a graduate of Oberlin college and for more than twenty-five years has been at the head of Ohlange Institute, Natal, South Africa, a school for native boys and girls. Mr. Dube is in America now in the interest of his school which he hopes may ultimately become the Tuskegee of South Africa.

ENJOY SLEIGH PARTY

The Young Men's class of the Winnetka Congregational church and the Winnetka Sunday Evening club joined in a sleighing party Friday night which left the Community House at 8 o'clock. After the ride the group was entertained at the home of Mrs. Stanley Simpson of 1040 Starr road.

Winnetka Woman Is Author of Article on Ex-Service Men

Josephine Feuchtinger of Winnetka is the author of an article in the Mental Hygiene magazine for October, 1926 on disabled ex-service men. The subject in full of the article is: "The Mental Factor in the Economic Adjustment of 500 Disabled Ex-Service Men."

Miss Feuchtinger is a psychiatric social worker, formerly executive secretary of the special employment bureau for ex-service men of the Chicago Woman's club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Feuchtinger of 947 Oak street. Mr. Feuchtinger is a well known professor of music.

The article deals with the individual examination and treatment of this type of ex-service men, which Miss Feuchtinger cites as one of the most important of the problem groups that has arisen since the war—the group of men who are mentally or physically handicapped, who are not ill enough to be permanently institutionized, yet apparently are not well enough to readjust themselves to normal economic and social life unaided.

Miss Feuchtinger records her experiences in endeavoring to apply the pressure necessary to bring each man to face reality for himself.

The author's writings appear under the name of Josephine Feuchtinger.

WINNETKA BUILDING NEWS

Winnetka, Ill.

We love to see the snow come down
In little feathery flocks,

It's beautiful but, gosh, we hate
To shovel it off the walks.

We have just completed arrangements with Mr. A. R. Clark of the A. R. Clark Co. 30 No. Michigan Ave., to furnish all lumber on the new Glencoe Methodist church, to be located at Hazel and Greenleaf.

"Why don't you photograph your bank roll?" suggests Lee Adams. "Then you can have it enlarged."

We have just received a new supply of Cabinet Ironing Boards, Telephone Cabinets, and Breakfast Nooks. These specialties are a real convenience, and are becoming more popular every year. The prices are reasonable too.

The wicked have no monopoly on this business of standing in slippery places. We proved it yesterday—ice on the sidewalk!

During the past week we delivered from seventy-five to eighty tons of coal per day, and under weather conditions that were anything but favorable. However, that's our business, to serve this community at all times, under any conditions, with the best fuel we can buy.

A man in Winnetka sent for an appliance guaranteed to keep electric bills down. They sent him a paper weight.

Over in Asiatic cities

you buy everything at your own risk. No standard prices on anything. How would you like that system? Neither would we.

The Cadenhead Co. are making some additions, and remodeling Mr. Wm. H. Hale's residence at 900 Willow St. Winnetka.

Mr. John Odh of 933 Linden Ave., is remodeling his shop into an up-to-date upholstering store. Mr. Emil Melhorn is doing the mason work.

We've always noticed that a small boy and a puddle of water are natural affinities.

OUR OWN
WEATHER—

Warmer
