

Season's Snow Allows Society to Enjoy Winter Sports

Sleigh Rides Make North Unenvious of Traveler South

"O the north wind doth blow,
And We shall have snow,
And what will poor robin do then, poor thing?"

The robin wisely went South, and the North Shore has in part followed him to more lenient climates, but many haven't heard the robin's call southward. Those who have remained behind to face icy blasts have faced them socially in the popular sport of the week, sleighing parties.

On every sort of conveyance on runners available jolly groups have jingled their way along the snow-covered roads. Such parties Florida and California and Mississippi can't offer.

The children haven't had the monopoly on the invigorating sport, for the grown-ups have bundled up for a number of rides. Several groups of high school students have dropped more sophisticated pleasures for sleigh rides.

Coasting parties vie with sleighing in popularity, and ice skating continues to have its fascination for young and old. So successful and gleeful an occasion was the costume ice carnival for children staged at Skokie Country club recently that the event calls for repetition. On February 5, costumes varying in type and hue will make vivid the scene animated by many young skaters flashing over the ice in the program comprising a grand "skatanade," races, a tug of war and fancy skating contests. Fred C. Weed has the endorsed carnival once more in charge.

Among the coasting parties was that given by Mr. and Mrs. William Ayer McKinney of 1200 Chatfield road for the chorus choir of the Winnetka Congregational church on January 25, with supper preceding. At the Indian Hill club Mr. and Mrs. Horace Capron of the North Shore hotel entertained with a coasting party, with supper following, on Wednesday evening, January 26.

Members of the Akiyuhati and Li-tahni camp fire groups, together with the guardians, Miss Mildren Olson, and Mrs. Phillip Fischer and Mrs. J. M. Winscott, gave a sleigh-ride party, Saturday afternoon, January 22, with games and refreshments afterwards.

Among the delightful sleigh rides was that given by Jean Wolcott, daughter of the Ryland A. Wolcotts of 932 Euclid avenue, who entertained at an afternoon party for a group of her friends on January 17. The next day, January 18, Ruth and Ralph Rockwood, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Rockwood of 598 Lincoln avenue gave an afternoon ride and supper party.

Priscilla White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. White of 795 Foxdale avenue, gave an afternoon ride at 3 o'clock, followed by a buffet supper at her home, on January 19. The same afternoon Kenneth and Tommy McLaren, sons of the Thomas McLarens of 1004 Pine street were hosts to a group of their friends.

On Friday, January 21, little Charles Stults, son of the E. E. Stults of 418 Sheridan road, took his first grade room on a ride followed by refreshments. The following day, Mrs. R. Jordan Wilson's daughter, Sunny, of 132 Glenwood avenue, Glencoe, gave a delightful sleigh-ride and supper party at her home, Saturday, January 22. Miss Virginia Munster, daughter of the Ernest H. Munsters of 418 Cedar street, was hostess to thirty friends on the same Saturday afternoon, January 22. Included in the other groups making good use of the deep snow and delightful weather, were the Koch children, Virginia, Mary Elizabeth and Hubert Howard, Jr., son of the Hubert Howards of 643 Walden road, entertained her room on a ride. Mrs. Samuel A. Stein of 564 Maple avenue entertained the group after the ride, at her home. Mrs. Howard is room chairman of this room.

The older group who are not to be outdone by the "rising generation" in the participation in winter sports and parties have also been indulging in sleigh rides. The Young Men's class and the Sunday Evening club combined in a ride Friday evening, January 21, followed by dancing at the Stanley Simpsons at 1040 Starr road. Mr. and Mrs. Theo. A. Buenger of 268 Ridge avenue gave an evening party, Tuesday, January 18, for a group of friends. And on Saturday, January 22, Miss Helene Younker, daughter of the Aaron Younkers of 349 Sheridan road, returned from University school for Girls in Chicago, to spend the weekend. Her parents planned an out-door party in her honor, and in celebration of her birthday. Dancing and refreshments followed the sleigh-ride.

Included in the list of hostesses were the Misses Florence and H. Mary Anderson, the Misses Lillian, Anna and Edith Lindwahl, Miss Helen and Miss Katherine Blasius and Miss Myrtle Sorenson.

Community Players Meet in Miniature Palm Beach

Players' Night, conducted by the Winnetka Community Drama club. Community Players, on January 12, in Matz hall, Community House, was pronounced most successful by those attending as guests, and those who worked hard to make the affair attractive.

Under the able direction of Mrs. Charles F. Karnopp of 455 Linden street, and Mrs. Carlton W. Washburne of 505 Provident avenue, the various committees co-operated in producing a miniature Palm Beach in the midst of severe winter weather. A jazz orchestra furnished music for dancing, a corps of white coated and capped waiters served ginger ale and ices, and the cabaret entertainers gave clever stunts.

Mrs. Anita Willetts Burnham, who was in charge of the wall decorations and "camouflage," produced with her committee a charming ocean and seaside scene and beach umbrellas and awnings also added to the summer effect.

The purpose of the evening was for the players, who include any season ticket holder in the organization, to meet one another for a social hour.

Mask Balls Hold Place in Coming Festivities

Two masquerade parties, are being planned among coming festivities. The Triangle club of Winnetka, which gave the balloon dance in the Community House a week ago attended by many North Shore young people, is planning a masquerade party to be held at Community House, on February 12. In celebration of Lincoln's birthday, a holiday for many, the club is arranging a unique dance to be given under the direction of an able committee. The name of the chairman and members of this committee will be announced later.

Attractive prizes will be awarded for the most attractive and original costumes. There will be prizes for both men and women. Music will be furnished by Hal Reeder's "Iowans," well known to dancing clubs and groups.

The North Shore Glee club, which gave one of the most popular dances of the winter season at the Winnetka Woman's club two weeks ago, announces to friends and guests of interested members, a masquerade dance that will take place later in January or early in February. The same dance committee will have charge of the affair that took charge of the first dance, and promises a most entertaining evening.

Music and Art to Feature Meeting of Woman's Club

At the next meeting of the Winnetka Woman's club on February 1, there will be an exhibition of seven paintings done by William Schmedtgen of Wilmette, in addition to the musical program to be given by Mrs. Warner H. Robinson and Joseph Brinkman.

The paintings were done while Mr. Schmedtgen, who is a member of the North Shore Art league, was traveling abroad last year in Belgium, Holland, England, France, Spain and Africa. Charles Morgan's fine pictures and etchings and Mrs. Alonzo Coburn's pieces of sculpture will also be on exhibition.

The music committee has been in charge of this meeting, under the direction of Mrs. William Sherman Hay, the chairman of the committee. Mrs. Robinson, soprano, will give a group of vocal selections and Mr. Brinkman, who has played with the Chicago Civic Opera company, will play piano numbers.

A class will be organized under the auspices of the art and literature department of the Winnetka Woman's club to meet Friday morning, February 4, at 10 o'clock at the club. There will be no charge for this class, which will study the history of art. It is the desire of the committee that a large number of members take advantage of this opportunity by telephoning Mrs. John Vennema at Winnetka 554 to make reservations.

Luncheons, Concert, for Members of Music Guild

A special luncheon for north shore members of the Musical Guild of Chicago, was given on Wednesday, January 19, at Guild House, 716 Rush street. The north shore committee of the guild, of which Adelaide Jones of Wilmette is chairman and Mrs. Harold Sherman, also of Wilmette, is secretary, is happy to announce that the third Wednesday of each month will find a luncheon at the Guild House specially for north shore members. This affords one a chance to greet old friends and meet new ones.

A series of Sunday afternoon concerts under the supervision of the north shore committee is being planned, the first one to be given Sunday, February 13. Mrs. Arthur B. Wells, the president of the guild, is enthusiastic over the work of the north shore members and hopes that the concert will serve as a means to draw them closer to their guild and its work. The charming Guild House with its air of genial warmth is indeed a real home to the musician and music lover.
