Society for Shut-Ins
 Selects Its New Heads

At the annual meeting of the Vocational Society for Shut-Ins, held Monday, January 31, at the Fortnightly club in Chicago, and the Board meeting held February 1, officers and directors for the coming term were selected, reports made and plans outlined.

Mrs. James Waller Marshall of 674 Prospect avenue, Winnetka, has been re-elected president of the society, Mrs. Eris Sudder, first vice-president, Mrs. Charles S. Dennis, second vice-president, Mrs. William S. Kline, treasurer, and Mrs. James C. Jameson, secretary.

New directors for the year will be Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody, Mrs. Edward Price Bell, Mrs. Bruce Scott, Mrs. Frederick H. Scott, Mrs. Henry H. Hilton, Miss Elizabeth Baker, and Mrs. Albert Gardner.

The first announcement of particular interest to north shore friends of the society is a sale being planned in Winnetka for the latter part of February. The place, exact date, and patronesses for the sale will be announced later.

Mrs. Marshall said that "The Vocational Society of Chicago as no other organization attempts to, and as you all know trains the Shut-In to produce a salable article which is disposed of during the year at the shop or private sales. All instruction, help and material are furnished the Shut-In free of charge and a monthly check is mailed on the 30th for all articles or work completed during the month, regardless of when sold."

Illinois ranks fourth in number of inventors, according to Patent Office figures for 1926.

EMULATES FORBEAR

Sidney S. Flower, of 270 Harbor street, Glencoe, emulating the "Father of his Country," and on the anniversary month of that illustrious one's birth, too, chopped down a tree. But it was Sunday, and the tree fell on his foot crushing one of his toes. Mr. Flower was confined to his home a few days and finally, when he did get out, could walk only with great difficulty, for some time.

Illinois has the fewest divorces per capita of states east of the Mississippi River.
