National W. C. T. U. Head Calls Session to Discuss Policies

Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the national W. C. T. U. will be in Evanston within a few days to meet with the other national officers to frame policies for the organization from the findings of the national conference of the W. C. T. U., held recently at Washington, D. C.

More than 500 women leaders of the prohibition movement attended the conference, representing nearly all the states in the union.

Among the Evanston women to attend the conference were Mrs. Anna A. Gordon, president World's W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Frances P. Parks, national corresponding secretary; Mrs. Margaret C. Munns, national treasurer; Miss Helen L. Hood, president Illinois W. C. T. U.; Miss Izora Scott, managing editor "The Union Signal"; Miss Epha Marshall, director of the department of Economics of Prohibition; Miss Winona Jewell; Mrs. Mary V. Nunn, national director of field service; and Earl Godwin of the publicity department.

The conference was reported remarkable in many ways, the social aspects of the gathering having much importance as the W. C. T. U. was the host at one of the most remarkable dinners ever given at the national capital. This function was given at the smart Mayflower hotel, where the conference was staged, and as guests the organization entertained 300 members of Congress together with their wives.

Another event of importance was a reception given to the membership of the conference by President Coolidge.

An event of particular interest locally was a memorial service at the base of the statue of Miss Frances Willard in statuary hall at the capital. Rep. Richard Yates, of Illinois, made a speech to a great conclave of the visitors who filled the hall; and conspicuous at the service was Miss Gordon, who is well known as having been Miss Willard's secretary. At the memorial service she was present as chairman of the Illinois Statuary commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Shibko of 470 Orchard lane, are leaving the village Tuesday, February 15, for six months. After traveling for several weeks, they plan to live in town for the remainder of the spring and early summer.

224 New Phones Put in Winnetka During Past Year

Winnetka's growth last year, as indicated by the number of new telephones installed, was described this week by H. B. Gates, local manager of the company.

Mr. Gates said that there was a net increase of 224 telephones installed in Winnetka during 1926, which was one of the greatest in the history of the Illinois Bell Telephone company as a whole. This means greater prosperity, greater development and greater commercial activity in the community, it was said.

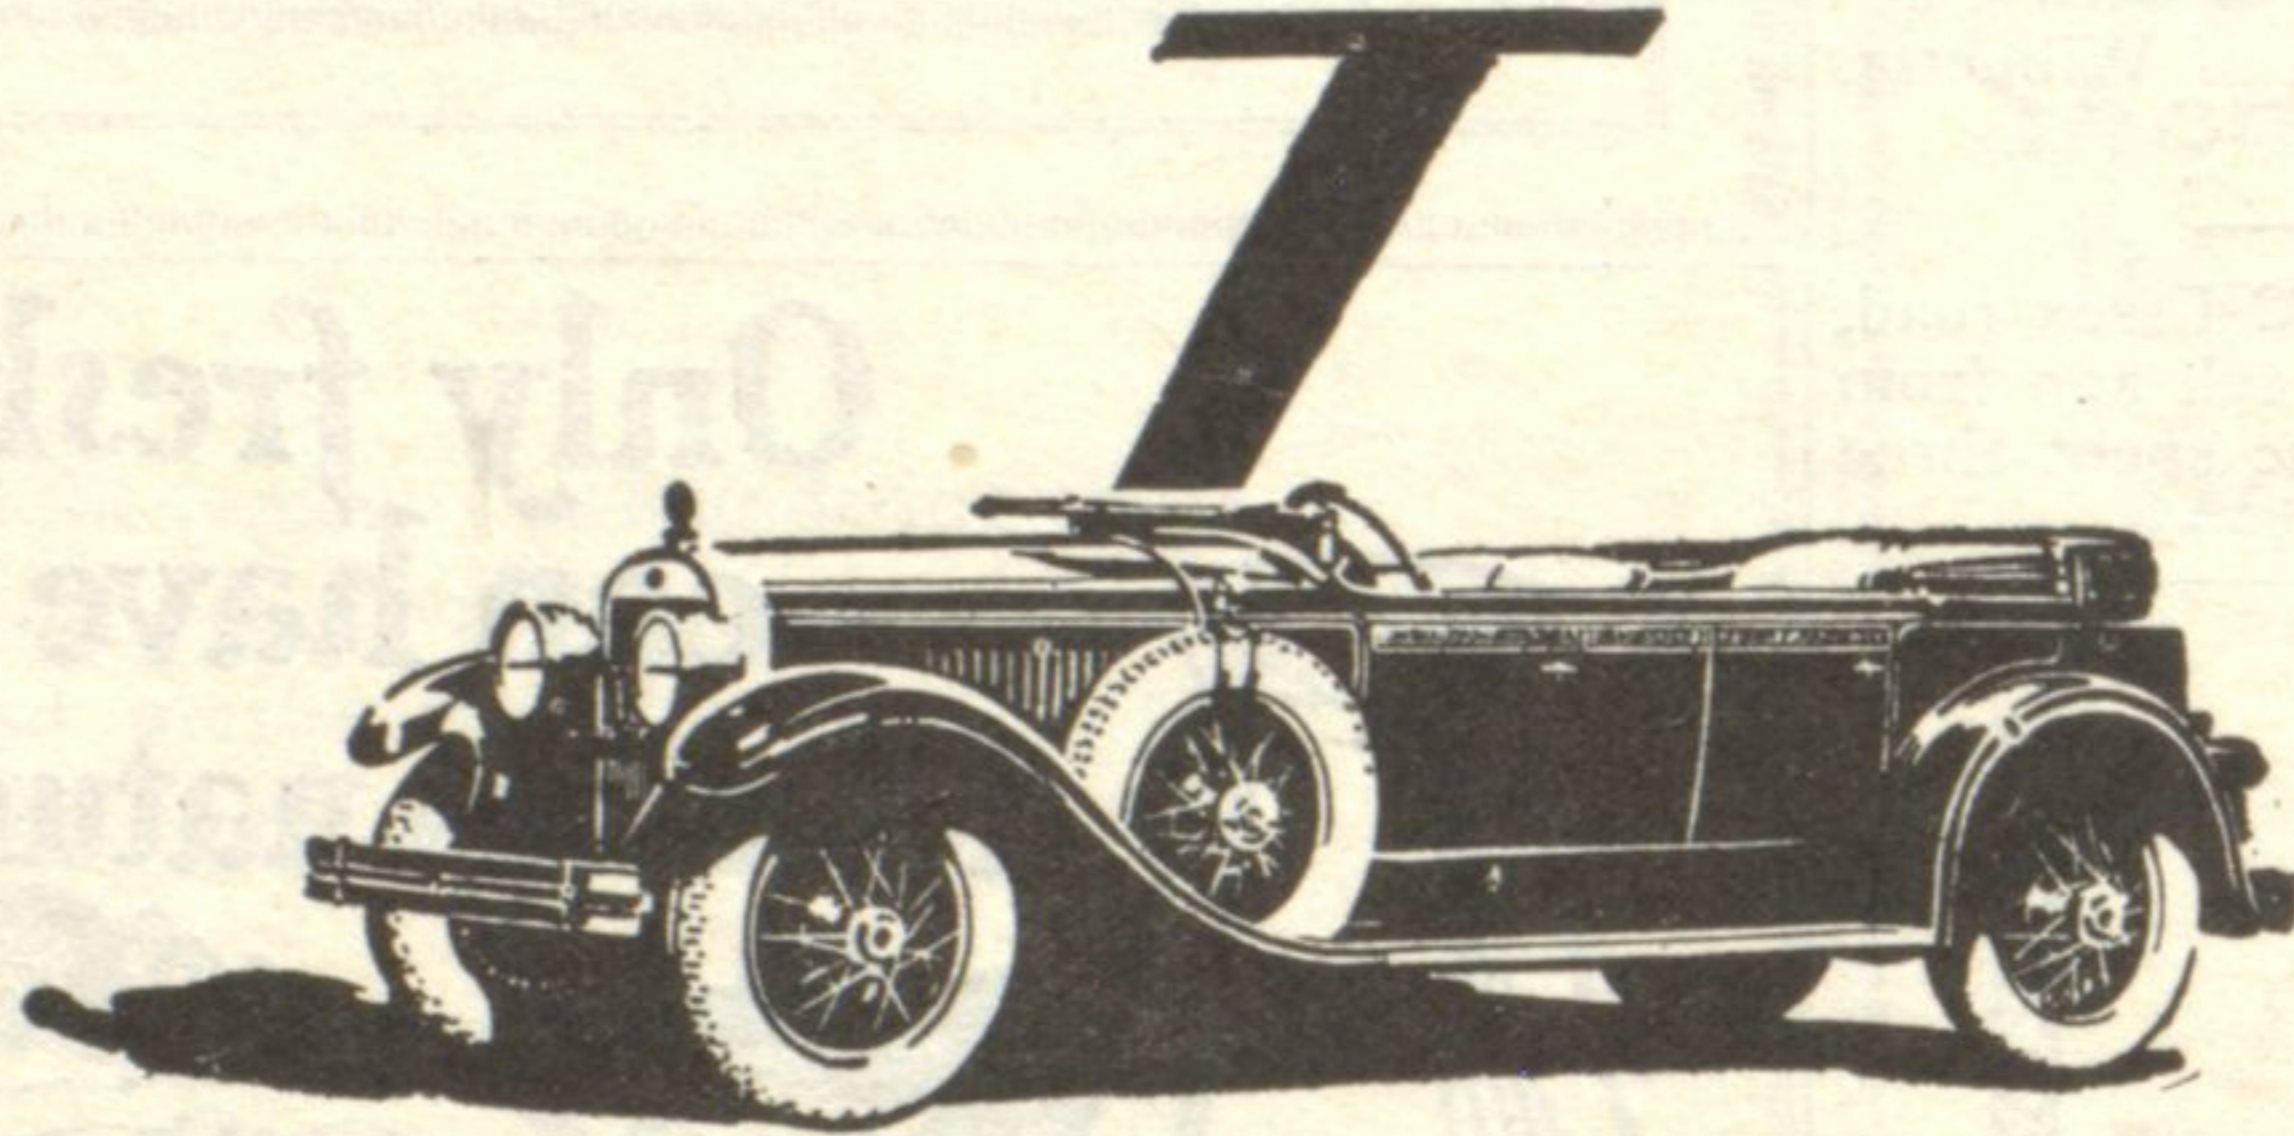

In Winnetka today, there are 3982 telephones, as compared with 1766 telephones, ten years ago.

It is the aim of the Telephone company, said Mr. Gates, to provide ample facilities for the normal growth of this community and keep pace with its constant prosperity.
