By BOB JOHNSON

*There was a young driver named Hopp
Who didn't know just how to stop
He escaped with his neck
But his car was a wreck
So he brought it right down to our shop.*

Philadelphia Orchestra to Play in Last of Concerts

Many Evanston and north shore music lovers have made reservations for the Philadelphia orchestra concert, the last attraction of a notable series under the auspices of Rachel B. Kinsolving, at Orchestra hall, Wednesday night, February 23.

The orchestra, which for fifteen years has been under the baton of Leopold Stokowski, is made up of 108 master musicians, each a virtuoso, representing the cream of instrumentalists of America and Europe.

The program will be an interesting one, combining the classic works of Bach and Handel with the more modern compositions of Debussy and Ravel.

Practically every artist of distinction in the world of music has appeared as soloist with this famous organization, and its guest conductors have included such celebrities as Richard Straus, Alfredo Casela, Georges Enesco, Igor Strawinsky, Vincent d'Indy, Ossip Gabrilowitsch and Frederick Stock.

New Trier Cagers Will Meet Morton Quintets Saturday

While confident of victory, New Trier cagers expect the hardest game of this year's schedule when both the heavyweights and the lightweights meet the Morton High quintets Saturday. In early season contests, New Trier emerged the victor in both divisions but only after close and hard fought games.

The New Trier heavyweights have been playing the best grade of basketball seen on the local floor for a number of years and emerged the victors in their twelfth game last Saturday by defeating Oak Park. At the present standing they hold the championship of the old Suburban league and have not lost a game this season.

At the first of the year the lightweights were not showing the best of form, although they have only dropped one game, to Oak Park by one point. In the last few weeks, however, they seem to have found the right stride and in their second game with Oak Park, last Saturday night, trounced the former victors by a 36 to 17 score. New Trier also stands in the lead in this division.

The lineup which will probably be used in the invasion of Morton Saturday, is as follows: Heavyweights, W. Paletti and J. Shelden as forwards; Hoerber at center; and Copeland and J. Paletti, guards. Lightweights, McClain and Whitaker as forwards; Strong at center; Swan and Mills guards. Richards, who has been showing first string form, may start at forward with the lightweights, and is certain to get in the game.

North Shore Theater Guild to Present 'Ariadne' Next

The directors of the North Shore theater guild announce that for the third play of this season they have selected "Ariadne," a comedy by A. A. Milne. Mr. Milne is well known for many delightful plays.

In selecting "Ariadne," the guild is following out its policy of producing four different plays each year, all of which have had success in other towns but which have never been seen in or about Chicago. "Ariadne" was produced by the New York Theater guild several years ago.
