College Celebrates First Year in North Shore Home

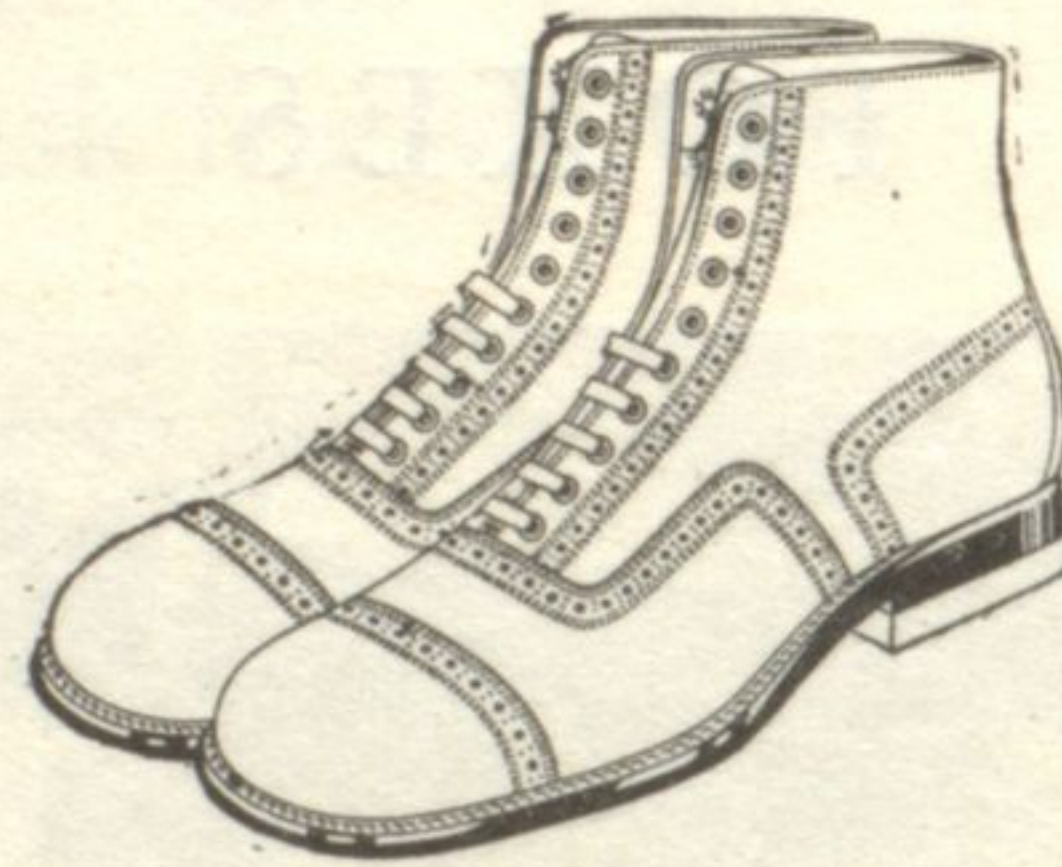

Moving day, February 10, the first anniversary of the move of the National Kindergarten and Elementary college into the new Harrison hall, was celebrated last Thursday by the 500 students with a song contest which, between rhythm of music and vigor of rendition, literally bade fair to "bring down the house."

A group of original songs by the faculty was followed by a keen competition between the senior-junior, sophomore-freshman classes for possession of the silver baton, the trophy of the contest. During a lull in the singing the sophomore class gave a clever skit entitled "Finding the New Dormitory," and the freshman group was enlivened by the presence of bobbing green bows on the heads of the members of the large class of mid-years, who are being initiated into the weal and woe of college life.

NEXT SNYDER LECTURE

The next lecture by Professor Franklin Bliss Snyder under the auspices of The Neighbors will be given February 25, at the home of Mrs. Joseph White, 169 Sheridan road, Winnetka at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

Nine Episcopal parishes of the north shore participated in the services including the Church of the Atonement and St. Paul's-by-the-Lake, Chicago; St. Luke's, St. Matthew's and St. Andrew's, Evanston; St. Augustine's, Wilmette; the Church of the Holy Comforter, Kenilworth; Christ church, Winnetka; St. Elizabeth's, Glencoe; Trinity, Highland Park; Holy Spirit, Lake Forest; and St. Lawrence's, Libertyville.

In addition to Bishop Woodcock and Dr. Delaney, Dr. Richard Wilkinson of St. John's church, Montgomery, Ala., and Dr. Frank E. Wilson of Eau Claire, Wis., were to be speakers.

Wednesday was known as Women's Day and the feature of the program was an address by Bishop Woodcock in the evening at 8 o'clock. Thursday was Men's Day and the evening's program was preceded by a dinner for all the men's clubs of the nine churches participating in the Crusade at 6:30 o'clock in St. Luke's parish house. Today was designated Young People's day.

Purple Battery Men Out to Get Primed for Work

Preparations for the coming baseball season got under way at Northwestern university this week as a squad of twelve pitchers and catchers reported to Coach Maury Kent for indoor workouts. The Purple club faces a strenuous season including a proposed spring training trip followed by a heavy conference schedule of twelve games.

Daily workouts for the battery men will be in progress at Patten gym from now until regular varsity practice gets under way in March. Two veteran hurlers, George "Lefty" Mills and Bill Palmer will handle the major portion of the slab work this season. They both worked alternately last year in capable fashion. George Panosh and Bill Hellerman, sophomores, are expected to develop into varsity material. Heidman, Flint and Bryant will be available for relief duty.

Loss by graduation of Ellis, star backstop last season, will weaken that position. Al Foster, regarded as a likely successor, broke a shoulder in basketball recently and may be unable to play. This leaves Vandenberg and Carey, two sophomores of little experience, as the candidates. Alabran, a senior who has not been out before, will report.
