Some of the startling statements Miss Ervin made concerning the work among the lepers in this country and abroad, made her talk more optimistic in nature than might be expected. She told of the workers who are devoting their life to the cause of leprosy, and, to the surprise of the listeners, said that they had not lost a single worker because of leprosy. Additional knowledge, scientific prevention and care of little scratches on the workers' hands, have resulted in the proving that the disease is only contagious under certain conditions. Another remark of importance Miss Erwin made was that the actual bacillus only lives from fifteen minutes to three hours, another evidence of the research work being carried on continually by scientists and doctors. 'Some men play golf, but I play leprosy."

The leper colonies in the United States are also doing splendid work, It was startling to know that two cases were discovered in Chicago within the last six months, and that there are more than five-hundred cases in the United States at the present time. That there is plenty to do to help the sufferers from this disease can readily

Miss Erwin said that $25 to $40 would support a leper for a year, and more generous contributions were also welcome as there was need for more room in working with the lepers in foreign countries.

SUBMIT CONCEPTION OF SKOKIE DRAINAGE PLAN

Winnetka Chamber of Commerce Produces Sketch of Proposed Valley Improvement

By George Park

(Chairman, Civic Committee, Winnetka Chamber of Commerce.)

In the interest of the proposed drainage of the Skokie Valley, the Civic committee of the Winnetka Chamber of Commerce has received letters, telephone messages, schemes and sketches. Nature lovers, of whom there are many, are protesting against encroachment upon the primal beauty of the valley. One would suppose from the protestations, that the stream in the valley was a brook of clear water, when as a matter of fact, it is only a sewage disposal plant, without any scientific attention.

Not being pleased with merely drawing the attention of the citizens of the north shore to the unhealthy condition of the valley, the Chamber of Commerce has had prepared an artist's sketch including a cross-section of a possible improvement of the region. This is designed to combine in one comprehensive scheme the features of utility and beauty.

Property owners, who have invested, will make improvements. Few of them will sacrifice to preserve the beauty of the valley. They are now improving by damming and installing pumps, and contemplate building cement dikes, with electrical ejectors, which will increase the flooding of the basements in homes built too near the valley.

To discourage individual improvements, the Chamber of Commerce shows in a sketch, a practical solution of a vexing question that has troubled the minds of the residents of the north shore for twenty years.
