

MacDowell Society
Hears Director of Goodman Theater

Thomas Wood Stevens of the Goodman theater was the guest of the North Shore MacDowell society last Thursday evening. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Bowes of Wilmette. George Swigart, violinist, with his sister, Estelle Swigart at the piano, opened the program with three selections: "Praeludium and Allegro," by Pugnani, "Adiagio" and "Perpetual Motion," by Ries, Waltz, by Cerwonky.

Mr. Stevens gave a short history of the theater, emphasizing the present need of conserving great drama. In America producers must find plays that will pay, therefore Americans excel in showmanship and in melodrama. Americans write melodrama and farce but produce no pure comedy in the real sense of the word.

The repertory theater implies a permanent company familiar with a certain group of plays, but does not necessarily involve constant changes of bill. The Goodman theater is striving to retain such a group of efficient actors and to train another group, consisting of young people who show decided talent for the stage. These students compete for their places with the theater and there is a constant weeding out process going on. The fact that plays are not given for profit allows a wide freedom of choice.

Mr. Stevens closed his remarks with these words of Kenneth Sawyer Goodman, which embody the object of the Goodman theater, and which are carved above the door: "To restore the old vision and to win the new."

Winnetkan Addresses
Two Minnesota Groups

Paul Nicholas Leech of 1513 Asbury avenue, left Tuesday night, March 1, for Minneapolis, where he made two addresses, as representative of the American Medical association, and the American Chemical society.

Thursday, March 3, Mr. Leech spoke on "Medicine in Connection With the Home," before the Minneapolis section of the American Chemical society, and he also spoke before the Hennepin County Medical society at its regular meeting. Mr. Leech is director of the chemical laboratory of the American Medical association, and because of his wide experience and contact with leaders in his field, is well equipped to speak.

Hold Public Hearing on Sunset Road Improvement

The matter of opening Sunset road from Center street, west, one block to Church road, will be discussed at an informal public hearing by the Winnetka village council, Tuesday evening, March 29. Proceedings are now pending in court for this improvement, having been held pending the Center street improvement.

Mrs. Christ W. Matthiesen of 1072 Ash street entertained twelve little friends at a birthday party in honor of her 2-year old son, Albert Henry, on Saturday, February 26. In the evening of the same day, she was hostess to sixteen guests at bridge in honor of her mother, Mrs. Albert Haberer of 1063 Oak street, whose birthday was the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Woodland, 336 Leicester road, returned to Kenilworth February 19, from Cuba.

A fellow out in Utah said he didn't know anything about the winters there as he'd only been there eighteen months.

Mr. Albert Kloepfer is building to sell, an attractive seven room common brick house at 491 Oakdale Avenue Glencoe. Celotex will be used as an insulation and a plaster base, insuring a warm house in winter and a cool one in summer.

There promises to be quite a bit of building activity in Glen Oak Acres. Mr. Edward Keil of Schaefer's Realty Co. is building an attractive bungalow for himself and plans to build several homes to sell.

A man who lives north of town says he missed all gossip last week. His wife has been away.

Mr. L. C. Reschke is making rapid progress on Mr. Matt Lillig's home in Ravinia. Both the lumber and the brick for this job were furnished by the Winnetka Coal-Lumber Co. Note quality of lumber and color scheme in face brick.

"Home is a place where you can trust the hash," remarks Albert Kloepfer.

We have just received a new supply of Hot Bed Sash which we believe are an improvement on anything we ever had before. The prices are reasonable too.

Did you know that 12,456,897 pounds of fish are lost each year because fishermen jerk their poles too soon?

This is the time of the year when many people are ordering a few more tons of coal to carry them through the winter. Call us and get some of this carefully selected and prepared coal. We also have a supply of nice dry maple and birch wood for the fireplace.
