Kenilworth and Winnetka Girls in Annual N. U. Play

Virginia Hendrick of Kenilworth will play the hero, Tom, of "In the Rough," the musical comedy to be given at Northwestern university April 6, 8, 9, and 13, and Lucille Tatham of Winnetka has been cast for another man's part in the play.

The Woman's Athletic association presents a production each year, and the selection of the cast, choruses, and specialty numbers is awaited with much interest. Alexander Dean is directing the production. A number of girls from the north shore will appear in the show. The play for this year is not written by students, but is a professional book cut down and rewritten to appropriateness for a college production.

The play is unusual in that men's parts are on the whole the best parts, and will call out that particular acting quality from girls who can take those parts.

Function of Church in Community, Class Topic

On Sunday, March 20, the Men's class of the Congregational church will hold an open discussion on the functions of the church in the community, what they are, what they should be, and how they may be developed most effectively. This subject is of such direct practical importance, class leaders say, that it is hoped all members and others interested will make a special effort to be present. A continuation of the discussion at a later date will be in order if developments at the forthcoming meeting warrant.

The address of Paul Hutchinson on the Chinese situation, previously scheduled for next Sunday, has been postponed to March 27.
