

TWELVE NINE ASTOR STREET

Unsurpassed in Social Prestige—Two Blocks West of Lake Shore Drive at Division Street, Chicago

Presenting Apartment Homes of Character For People of Comfortable Means

A sixteen story structure of Italian Renaissance Architecture. The equities average $18,000.00.

RICHNESS without extravagance—a full measure of comfortable living at conservative cost—These and many other important advantages accrue to those who invest in Twelve Nine Astor Street apartment homes.

Limited to two apartments to a floor, one of six rooms and one of seven, each with three baths, there is no wide variance in either the social or financial status of the substantial people who are purchasing apartments in this building.

North Shore families interested in a more convenient and thriftier city residence in what is undeniably the most desirable residential section of Chicago, are invited to visit these apartments embodying architectural and structural features of unusual merit.
