

North Shore Man Heads Illinois Electric Body

Julius L. Hecht, vice-president in charge of operation for the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, was elected president of the Illinois Electric association during that organization's annual convention in Springfield, March 17 and 18.

Mr. Hecht, who has been an official of the Public Service company since 1923, was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1904. Shortly thereafter he became Construction Engineer for the North Shore Electric company, the principal predecessor of the Public Service company. After numerous promotions to engineering positions of increasing responsibility, Mr. Hecht in 1915 became superintendent of electrical production and in 1921, assistant to the vice-president in charge of operation. He is a past president of the Western Society of Engineers and the National District Heating association, a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and also is active in the Chicago Engineers' club. He resides with his family in Evanston.

SENIORS CARRY CANES

Seniors at Northwestern university assumed their annual spring swagger and pomp this week as they began to carry the senior canes, a traditional privilege granted only to the upperclassmen. Underclassmen who might be so bold as to carry a cane will be given the ancient punishment of a toss in the lake. Plans are also under way for the annual freshman cap burning at which the first year students will doff their green headgear for the last time.

Resume Radio Talks on Tuberculosis Subjects

These are to be given over WGN by courtesy of the Chicago Tribune every Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Dr. Wilson Ruffin Abbott, tuberculosis specialist of Chicago, Dr. E. F. ### Scouts to Have Part in Keeping Town Beautiful Someone has said that "boys are more interested in doing good than they are in being good." At least the Scouts of Wilmette are interested in "applied citizenship," and are demonstrating this interest in helping to make their village more attractive. Scouts learn how to do many things. But most of all they enjoy practicing the things they learn.

The Scouts of the seven local Scout troops, under the leadership of their junior officers, are setting out to lend their influence in making their village more attractive. They are particularly interested in protecting lawns and shrubbery, in making alleys and back yards more attractive. Scouts are speaking at school assemblies, and before clubs, telling about their interest in helping to beautify their village.
