

Masons in Midst of Busy Social Affairs Season

Activity at the Winnetka Masonic lodge has increased to a remarkable extent during the past few weeks and is responsible for the large attendance each Tuesday evening. Special events have been on the program for the past three weeks and another of equal importance is scheduled for April 19.

On March 29 open house was held for members and their wives, the attendance being quite large. A program of unusual entertainment was presented by a group of local Masons and one or two guest artists. This was followed by bridge and dancing. On the program of entertainment was Opal Craven Steele, soloist at the Rogers Park Congregational church, Jamie Shepard, a well known Scotch comedian, also gave some of his excellent characterizations. J. S. Meck, pianist, Thomas Radcliffe, bass, and Davies Lazear, tenor, found an enthusiastic audience for their efforts and C. J. Eastman, introduced as the "John Barmore" of Winnetka lodge, presented an original impersonation, which was well received.

On April 5 all of the four tournaments which have been in progress came to a conclusion. The bridge whist tournament found Messrs. C. H. Carlstrand, F. Wolter, Jr., Elmer E. Adams and J. E. Weinstock carrying off the prizes. A. A. Mauland won the pocket billiard tournament, C. J.

Eastman captured the billiard tournament, and Fred Richardson, Jr., was the successful contestant in indoor putting. Practically all of the contestants in these affairs were on hand last Tuesday evening when the social committee presented the various prizes. Considerable amusement was caused by the fact that every one present received a prize of some sort while silver pieces were awarded to the various winners.

On Tuesday, April 19, Dr. J. W. F. Davies, a member of the lodge, will deliver an address on "Youth, Yesterday and Today." Mr. Davies has gained national prominence as the head of Community House. He has specialized in Religious Educational and Social work, having spent two years at Chicago Commons and three years with Gunsaulus Armour Mission before coming to Winnetka about eighteen years ago. His will be the fourth address which Winnetka Masons have been privileged to hear this year, other speakers having been George Fraser, John S. Miller, Jr. and H. L. Woolhiser, Village manager.

Richard Houren is home from Notre Dame to spend the Easter vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Houren, 838 Cherry street. He will return next Tuesday.

Miss Dorothy Fawcett of Rochester, Minn., was hostess at Alpha Phi cozy Friday of last week given at the home of Mrs. Charles Schwartz, 187 Ridge avenue.

Minister to Arrange Meetings for Parents

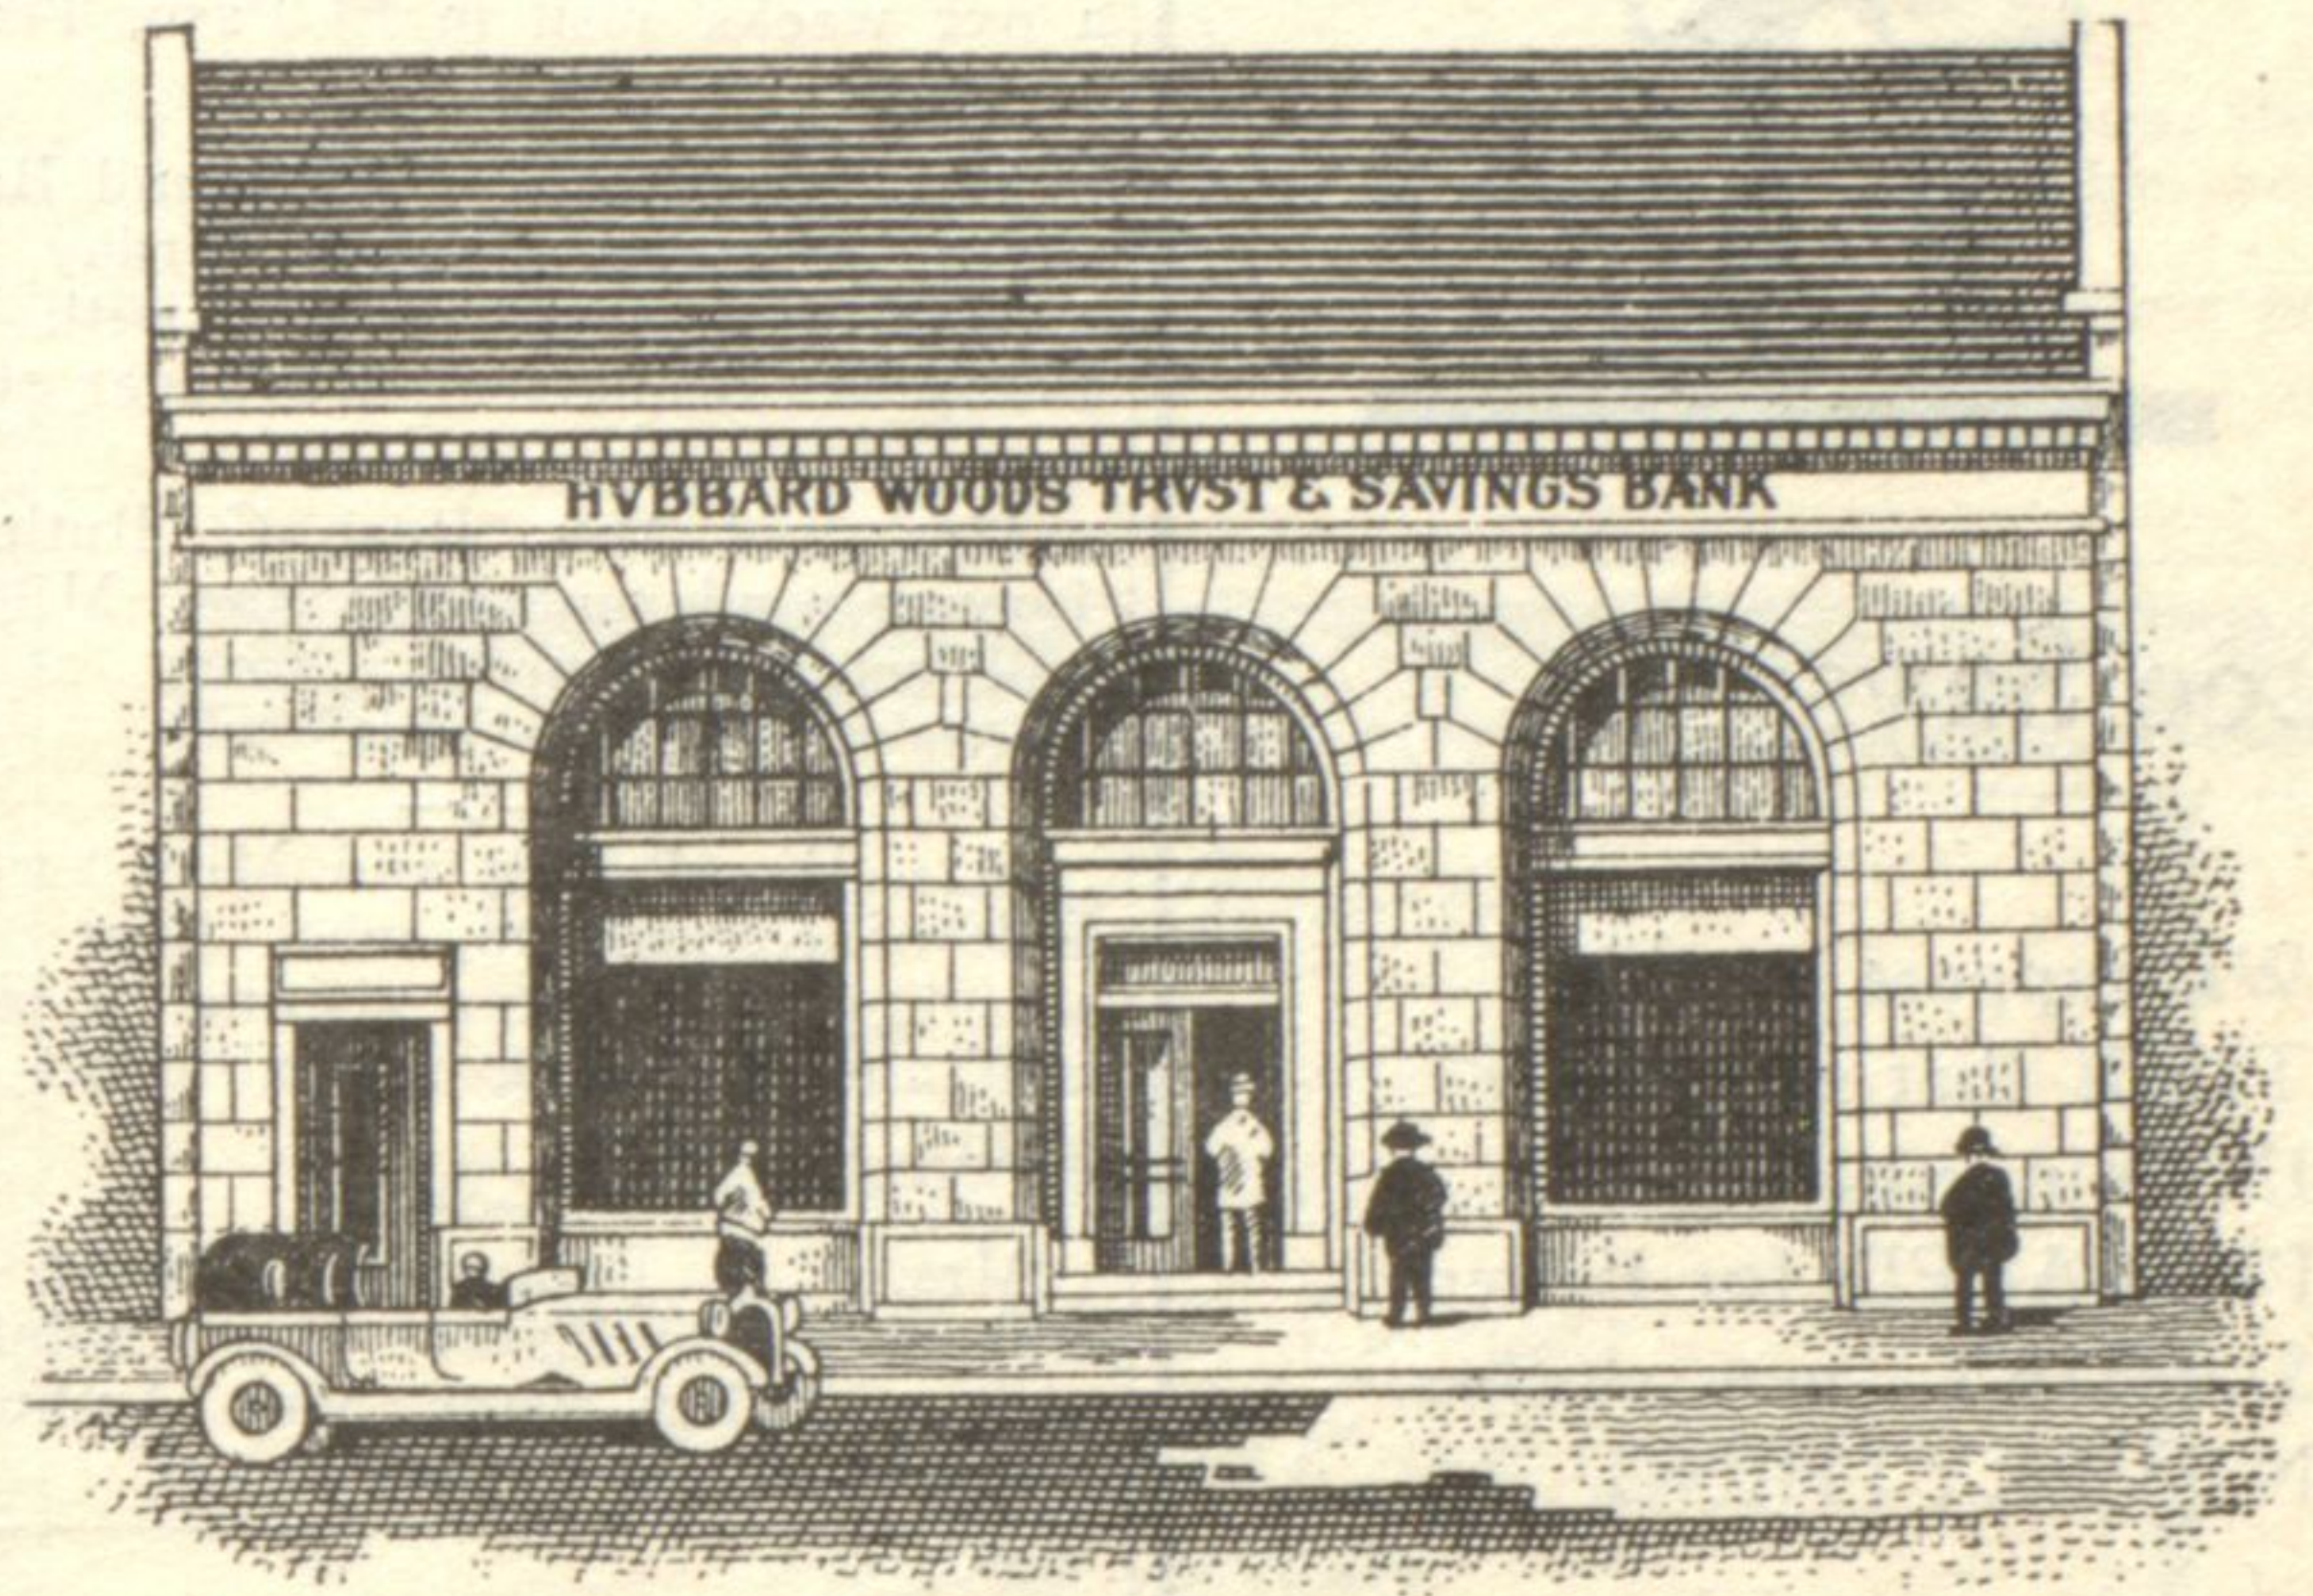

Rev. James Austin Richards of the Winnetka Congregational church is meeting for three Monday nights with the parents of the second year High in the Congregational church school. The meetings take the form of a conference on the teaching that Mr. Richards is at present doing in this grade, and is a general discussion on the relation of youth to the church, and the religious influence of the home.

The first meeting was held last

Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lord Wells. The second of the series will be next Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Woodward, 685 Ardsley road, at 8 o'clock.

Others who are interested, will be heartily welcomed.
