

Arts Club, Chicago, Follows Rule Offered by Antonin Sterba

The experiment tried at the Orrington hotel art galleries just before the holidays, when the exhibit of Chicago artists' paintings were hung to rule suggested by Antonin Sterba, Evanston artist, has been adopted and followed in the current show at the Art's club, Chicago.

This rule is that exhibited canvasses should conform in size to a certain degree, making impossible the frequent jarring notes of little pictures or overwhelmingly big ones. The approximate measurement is 28 inches in one direction. As a result of its application in the Evanston show, the wall arrangements were worked out harmoniously and to advantage. There were no small canvasses to be obscured.

Thomas E. Tallmadge has a showing of specimens of engraving in this downtown exhibit, A. H. Ullrich has a sketch, and a majority of the other artists of Chicago and vicinity who have exhibited at Evanston shows, have entered canvasses.

STERBA EXHIBITS

Mr. Sterba is represented in the exhibition of paintings by men painters of Illinois which opened recently at the Illinois Women's Athletic club. Other north shore artists also have showings there.

LECTURE ON ART

Two Evanston artist teachers, the Misses Anna Helga Hong and Ethel Louise Coe, are on the current program of the Fullerton hall lectures at the Art Institute, Chicago. Miss Hong, a professor of art at Northwestern university, talked on "Color in the Home," Monday. Next Monday Miss Coe will discuss "The English Home."

Sees Chicago as Center of Industrial "Gravity"

"Northern Illinois may well be described as the country's 'center of gravity' in respect to industrial activities," said John G. Learned, vice-president of the Public Service company of Northern Illinois, in addressing the Industrial Development conference held in Waukegan last week in connection with the fifth district conference of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

"New industries," continued Mr. Learned, "constantly are on the lookout for advantageous locations. There is no section of the country which has more to offer in the way of both natural facilities and those which have been developed than the territory north, west and south of Chicago."

After mentioning many of the factors which must be born in mind by communities in their efforts to obtain new industries, Mr. Learned devoted several minutes to emphasizing the importance of aiding in the development and expansion of industries already established.

"We all recognize the importance," he said, "of doing our utmost to attract new manufacturing plants to the Northern Illinois territory. We must exercise care, however, that—in our zeal for the new—we do not neglect the old."

Frank W. Cherry, 422 Abbottsford road, returned to Kenilworth Saturday night from a five weeks' trip to California.

Goodyear Balloon Tires

People who wouldn't think of going to any but a good, reputable dealer for food, clothing, or furniture, patronize the worst kind of "dumps" when it comes time to buy a tire.

They do this thinking it is necessary in order to get a tire bargain.

We'll sell you the best tire made—a Goodyear—at a price as low as you can get anywhere.

Today, more than ever, more people, the world over, ride on Goodyear tires than any other kind.
