IT PAYS

We are frequently asked if it pays to spend so much time in reconditioning and inspecting our used cars before they are offered for sale. The answer is that a great many of our used car purchasers come back when they want new cars. Doesn't that pay?

Glencoe Man Has Important Role
on School Afloat

Aubra R. Dunham of Glencoe, a former student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and now enrolled in the University Afloat on its College Cruise Round the World, is one of the four who are arranging a motion picture story of the cruise.

Dunham is director of the scenes to be taken aboard the S.S. Ryndam and is assisting in writing the scenario.

A complete motion picture is to be filmed of the University Afloat, a pioneer college of the sea, and the experiences of their school year around the world woven into a story centering around two or three students.

Dunham has been active in the Planet Players, the dramatic club of the University Afloat, and was one of the originators of the plan for a motion picture story of the cruise.

Scenes are now being filmed aboard the ship in northern European waters, and are to be ready for revision and release when the Ryndam docks at Hoboken, N. J., May 2, ending its eight months' circle of the globe.
