

WINNETKA C. OF C. SETS STAGE FOR BIG EVENT

Will Bring Various Civic and Official Heads Together at Chamber's Annual Dinner

The stage is being set by the Winnetka Chamber of Commerce for what promises to be the biggest night in its history, when, on Monday evening, May 9, the recently elected officers of the Chamber will be installed.

The ceremonies of installation will be the briefest part of the evening's program, but opportunity is to be afforded on this occasion to bring together the officers of the Chambers of Commerce of all the North Shore villages, Winnetka village officials and others, for an evening's entertainment and a general discussion of many questions of common interest to the various communities.

C. of C. Interest Grows

The business organizations of the North Shore villages are enjoying a membership and interest far exceeding any former periods in the history of these organizations, and their cooperation with other civic and official bodies is being sought and appreciated.

There has been invited to this meeting, officials of the Chambers of Commerce at Wilmette, Glencoe and Highland Park; the presidents of the Indian Hill and Hubbard Woods Improvement associations; the members of the village council of Winnetka; the chief of police and the chief of the fire department of Winnetka; the president of the Winnetka board of education; the superintendent of Winnetka public schools and the principal of New Trier High school.

All members of the Winnetka Chamber of Commerce and their wives; their employes, and also all business and professional men of the village and their wives, whether they are members of the Chamber of Commerce or not, will be welcome.

A Get-together Meeting

It is to be a great, big, get-together meeting, one which it is anticipated will tax the capacity of Matz hall at Community House where the meeting and dinner will be held.

The dinner will be served promptly at 7 o'clock. Tickets have already been mailed to members of the Chamber. Others may procure tickets from the members or at the Chamber of Commerce office, 556 Center street.

Tenney, village president; presidents of the visiting Chambers, and others, including Thomas J. Lynch, newly elected president of the Winnetka Chamber of Commerce. President Lynch, with his associate officers and members has a well defined program for sound constructive business activities by the Chamber and the community.
