You'll Need No Second Invitation to Do
Your Shopping at This Market

Before you make definite connections with a market with whom you plan to do your marketing, you will do well to make yourself acquainted with Peters' Market at 734 Elm Street.

This market you will find much to your liking. The equipment is most modern and up-to-the-minute. It's clerks are friendly and offer you a most courteous and satisfying service. Cleanliness is a great feature at this market.

Quality prevails at all times, whether you come to the market in person or order by telephone, you will receive at all times only the best cuts of meats, for which you will pay no more than you have been paying for really inferior quality.
