A Move for the Better!

Finding our old store at 1124 Central avenue, entirely too small for Chapel purposes and not suited to give the people of Wilmette and the North Shore the service they are entitled to, we moved into larger quarters.

In this new home of ours, a magnificent place fitted with every possible mortuary facility, we have a funeral home difficult to surpass anywhere. We outgrew our old quarters.

How your collars are given that smooth, attractive finish

Did you know that every stiff collar you send us goes through almost a dozen different operations before it is returned to you, smartly starched and stylish?

Of course it must be washed thoroughly, rinsed, and the excess water removed. Next it is starched and dried, then dampened and ironed flat by the Collar Ironer pictured.

It is here that your collar receives the smooth, attractive finish that you prize so highly. For the Collar Ironer is so adjusted that only a certain amount of pressure can be applied. The linen is protected from excess pressure; every collar is given the same pleasing finish.

Following this operation turn down collars are re-dampened at the seams and folded. Finally, the graceful shape and snug fitting quality are secured by placing the collar in a special machine known as the Collar Shaper.

Be sure your next bundle of collars is laundered this more modern way. You will find it both a source of comfort and an assurance of style.
