

Enjoy Country Life at its Best in the Convenient Barrington Estate Region

A recent "back-to-the-soil" movement among families of means has turned naturally toward Barrington.

For here, from the highest point in the Chicago area, 900 feet above sea level, views of the fertile countryside are inspiring. It is a landscape made up of well-cultivated estates, rolling hills, luxuriant turf and abundant foliage, both the wild and garden variety.

Though within 44 minutes of Chicago by fast trains, Barrington enjoys a seclusion unequalled in the metropolitan area. Wild fowl are plentiful for casual shooting, and dirt lanes connect the estates in an unbroken chain of charming bridle paths. Golf, on links overspread with wild flowers and flourishing shrubs, is the sportsman's delight.

Barrington is now being discovered anew, and improvements are being vigorously pushed. Through Quinlan & Tyson, who have had extensive experience in this section, you can get all the information you need on opportunities here. You can secure tracts of from 4 to 300 acres at prices surprisingly conservative. Come to Quinlan & Tyson for the facts. Call, phone or write.
