

"House Warming" Inaugurates New E. T. Leonard Home

The quaint little Spanish bungalow recently completed at 109 Linden avenue, Hubbard Woods was designed and built by E. T. Leonard of the E. T. Leonard Co., builders, of 556 Center street, for his home, and was the scene of a jolly "house warming" party Saturday evening of last week.

The building is located well toward the rear of a 135 foot lot having a frontage of fifty feet on Linden. The front of the lawn is being attractively landscaped, featured by a miniature sunken garden in the center.

The house, as all typical bungalows of this type, has a blended red Spanish tile roof and the exterior is of rough plaster finish. There is a two car attached garage.

Mrs. Leonard, who returned from Florida a short time ago, was summoned to Racine, Wis., soon afterward by the illness of her mother. During her absence the building was completed and Mr. Leonard had their furniture, which had been in storage, moved to their new home, and with it also had installed a new baby grand piano.

The following were the out of town guests at the "house warming" party:

Miss Betty Subject, of New York; Miss Jean Zinnen, of Calumet, Mich.; Miss Josephine Williamson and William Hettrich, of Racine, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, of Evanston; and Misses Agnes Larkin, M. Hettrich and Anna Tipton and Paul Krause, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Davis of 545 Chestnut street announce the birth of a son May 4, at the Evanston hospital. James Clyde Davis is the name chosen for the baby.
