

HUGO VON HOSTEN TO SHOW WEST PAINTINGS

Noted Winnetka Artist to Exhibit Work Done During Winter in California

Hugo O. von Hofsten, Winnetka artist and painter of the Skokie returns this Saturday, from a winter spent in California. Mr. von Hofsten is bringing back with him a collection of water colors and sketches he has painted during the winter and which will be on exhibition in the Camp Fire Girls' room at Winnetka Community House, from May 29 to June 12.

The water colors include scenes at the Grand Canyon, Pasadena, Mt. Wilson and the San Bernardino range, the Ojai Valley, the Bell Ringers' Garden at the San Juan Capistrano Mission, the Pacific ocean from Balboa, the Torrey Pines, Carmel-by-the-sea, the Imperial Valley, and the Mojave Desert in bloom.

This is Mr. von Hofsten's first trip to the West coast and he has written back to Winnetka that he had been at first overwhelmed by all the colors and sunlight and then had painted diligently to catch it with his brush.

The flowers in the desert this spring have been more impressive than for forty years, Mr. von Hofsten writes, because of the unusually heavy rainfall. He describes a trip into the desert with other artists, as follows:

"For hours, six thousand feet up on a ridge overlooking immense mountains and valleys on either side. Then we came down suddenly into the Mojave Desert—in the foreground forty square miles of flowers, blue, purple, yellow and maroon. The colors go on so far that you see no horizon, disappearing in a soft gray, with the snow-colored mountains faintly showing through."

Mr. von Hofsten's friends on the north shore have been interested to see how he has reacted to this new setting, startlingly different from the locale of his landscapes of former years—the Skokie valley, the Mountains in Switzerland and Winter in Sweden.

The North Shore Line receives countless letters commending its Lost and Found Department. Recently this department received the following editorial recognition in the Waukegan Daily Sun: "We have a good word to say for the efficient work of the North Shore Line 'lost and found' department. We left a pocketbook on a city line car. As a matter of course we notified the road, and received the pocketbook a few hours later. More recently we left an article of clothing on a limited train. That, too, was returned as soon as we notified the 'lost and found'. These cases, but two of hundreds handled each month, speak well for the honesty of the conductors and motormen."
