Dedicate Cabin Soon

Although the Forest Preserve tract in which it is located is still teeming with Scouting activities, the "Cabin in the Woods" is not quite complete yet. Plans are being made for a formal dedication and opening. Watch for the date. It will be a gala day for scouts, parents and friends.

Leaders Plan Summer Programs

Troop committees can do much to help make summertime scouting profitable, according to a bulletin issued from the area headquarters. They can help to get every possible scout to a good camp, by providing plenty of opportunity for OUT door activities on beach and in forest during the summer. They can also be planning ahead to strengthen the troop next fall.

How to build a cabin, camping hints, stories of summer scouting, these and dozens of other interesting topics are covered in the June issue of Boys' Life, which Scouts have received during the last few days.
