

Throngs Attend Garden Mart

The rain held off and the sun shone on Saturday, and so many hearts were lighter, and the Commons blossomed forth with bright awnings, gay umbrellas and brilliant flowers, for it was the day of the Winnetka Garden Market. Garden lovers came early to buy annuals from Mrs. Willoughby Walling's booth, or perennials from Mrs. Harold DeLay's. Later came those in search of garden accessories, which were found in Mrs. Charles Strong's booth. All day the Commons was crowded. Wieners, ice cream, cold lemonade and other refreshments were served, and the children saw Punch and Judy, had their silhouettes cut out, followed the Hand Organ man, and had a gay time generally.

Though no definite statement can yet be made as to the exact amount cleared, everyone feels that more money was made than at any previous market in Winnetka, and that the affair was a brilliant success.

Mosquito War in Full Swing Says Woolhiser

The mosquito abatement work in Winnetka is still going forward, H. L. Woolhiser, Villager Manager announces. This consists of oiling the ditches and all standing water within the village limits, and also in the Indian Hill club district. The Mosquito Abatement committee, of which H. C. Phillips is chairman, has also started the work of oiling catch basins.

Owing to the large amount of rainy weather, the Skokie area west of the village is a very prolific breeding place for mosquitoes, and the mosquito nuisance cannot be eliminated, it is pointed out, until the condition there is remedied.

Efforts are being made by H. F. Tenney, village president and by the mosquito abatement committee to secure action on the part of the Sanitary Drainage district in handling the mosquito abatement work west of the village limits.
