

Golf Club Sites Available in Estate Region of Barrington

Someone will soon build another fine golf course in Barrington.

It will win wide renown, because the topography is there! Rolling hills, luxuriant greens, interesting "dog-legs" and straightaways, wood and water hazards—what couldn't a golf course architect do with land like that?

Moreover, people are moving there in increasing numbers who will support a fine golf club. They have been Chicago business men who found the seclusion of Barrington conducive to the utmost contentment and relaxation. It is a sportsman's paradise where shooting, riding and country diversions abound. And 44 trains a day, the fastest making Chicago in 44 minutes, determine its convenience.

Several fine golf club tracts near Barrington are now available through Quinlan & Tyson. Here is a real opportunity for a syndicate to develop an estate and golf club district with profit. Those interested are invited to communicate at once with one of our offices.
