

Percentage of New Teachers for Next Term Below Average

Although the changes in the personnel of the faculty of the Winnetka schools are somewhat more numerous than in the past, the proportion of really new teachers will be less than average when classes are resumed next fall, according to Carleton Washburne, superintendent. This is accounted for by the fact that several of the teachers who have been on leave during the past term will return for the coming year.

In the following list of the faculties for the various schools, the new teachers are indicated by the letter "N" while those returning are marked "R."
