

TRUST

One of the outstanding developments of the modern financial world has been the growth of trust business. It was formerly necessary to depend on acquaintances or trusted employes for management of estates, or as managers of businesses in case of absence. Now those possessing securities, real estate or business interests can find in the Trust Departments of the larger banks experience impartial and seasoned, which enables them to shift the burden of care or worry, feeling assured that their affairs or their heirs will be fully protected.

It is significant that the Trust Department of this bank has been entrusted with the direction and perpetuation of many of the large estates on the North Shore. You will be interested to know fully of the possibilities that this department offers.

VAULT

One of the "sights" that you should not fail to see is the Vault. There are few that equal its massive strength. In addition to its wall of 950 tons of steel and stone, its thirty-three ton entrance, its intricate signaling systems, its lining of sheet steel, its tiers of steel clad boxes—there are coupon rooms, comfortable rooms that enable you to examine the contents of your boxes in absolute privacy. Furthermore, there are so many of these rooms provided that you are assured of no delay.

TRAVEL

Where do you want to go? When? How? What shall you take? Where will you stop? How fast can you make the trip? No matter what your desires are or what you wish to know, the Travel Service of this bank will tell you from experience. Every member of this department is an experienced traveler. They have lived abroad. Therefore, when you desire details on any trip you will find here a veritable gold mine of practical information that will be invaluable and eliminate those irritating occurrences enroute that so often mar an otherwise delightful trip.
