Going to Hollywood

Miss Alice Lundquist, 732 Reba place, "Evanston's Mary Pickford," has been appearing lately in a scenario made by the Cinema Arts company for which the company last week filmed a number of scenes on the university beach in Evanston. Miss Lundquist, who is a cousin of Anna Q. Nilsson, the screen star, expects to leave soon for Hollywood to enter the motion pictures field there.

Stricken Milwaukee Man Aided by Local Police

Suffering from a heart attack, Marcus Silverman of 856 E. 5th street, Milwaukee, requested the aid of the Winnetka police Wednesday afternoon. The police called Dr. George Munns of Winnetka, who treated Mr. Silverman and ordered him to return to the Evanston hospital, from which he was recently discharged.

Hugh Robinsons to Spend Honeymoon on Island of Bermuda

Bridal satin with lace outlined in silver, with rhine-stone and pearl embroidery, a long court train, and a tulle veil with a Juliette cap of pearls made the charming wedding costume of Miss Winifred Bilsland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Bilsland, on the occasion of her marriage Wednesday evening to Hugh Mackellar Robinson, son of Mrs. William Colin Robinson of Chicago. Her bouquet was of valley lilies, sweet peas, and flesh colored orchids.

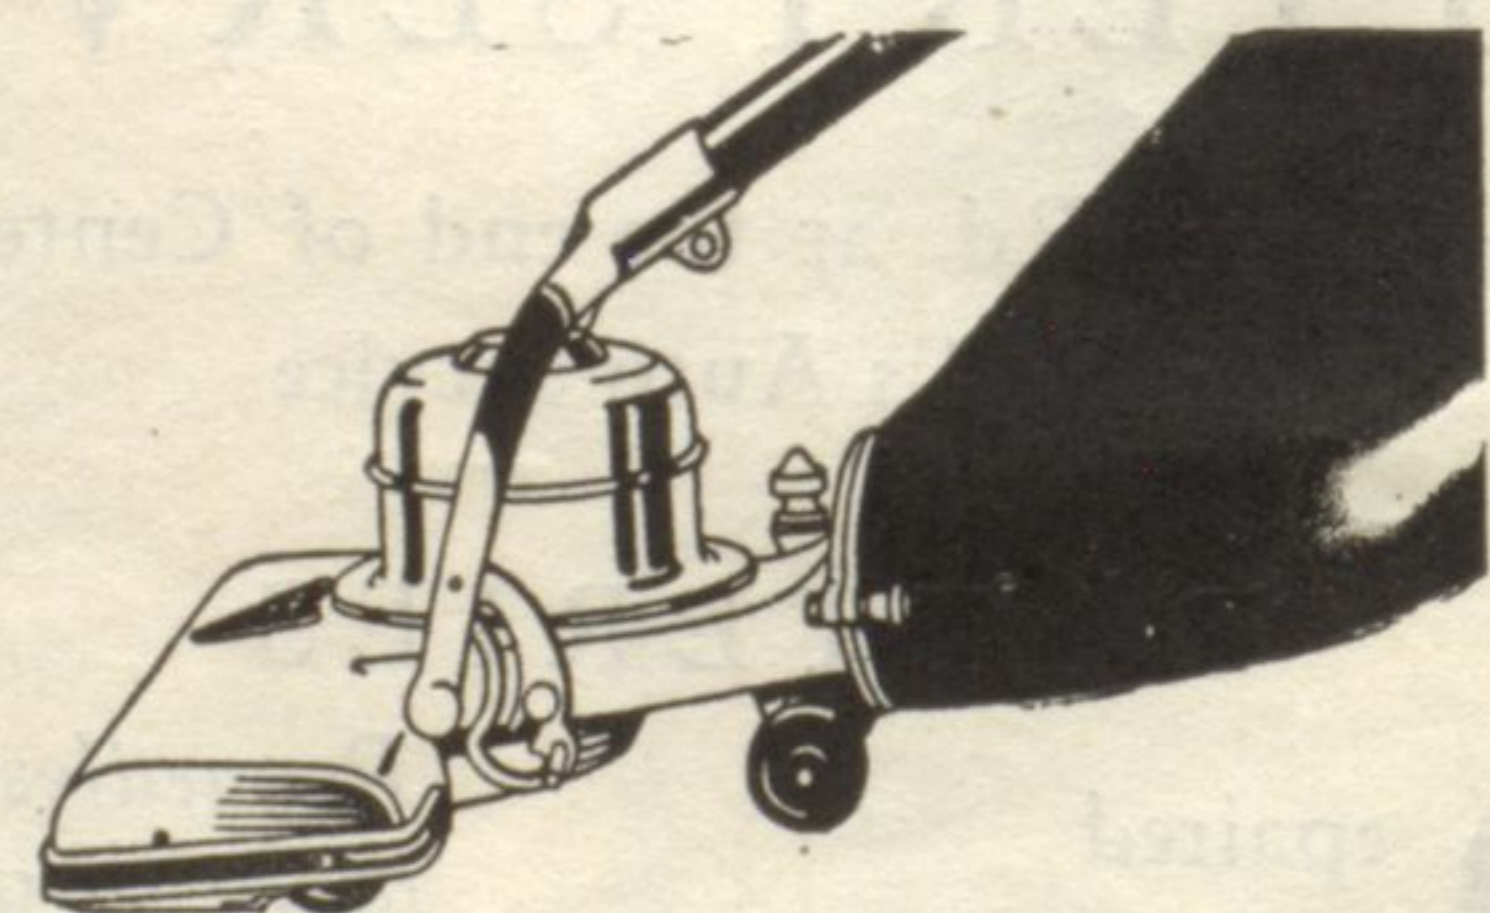

Water lily green taffeta embroidered in silver fashioned the gown of the matron of honor, Mrs. Harry V. Donaldson; the maid of honor, Miss Virginia Croft of Chicago, wore violet satin embroidered in pastel shades. Orchid satin, lace and silver embroidery composed the frocks of the bridesmaids, Miss Jane Ridgway of Kenilworth, Miss Laura Emily Slosson of Hubbard Woods, Miss Elizabeth Becker of Minneapolis, and Miss Dorothy Shackelford of Frankfort, Ky. The matron and maid of honor carried bouquets of butterfly roses, lavender sweet peas and blue larkspur.

Paul Robinson acted as his brother's best man, and Harry V. Donaldson, Winston Tarbot, Thomas Flack, Kimball Burr and Edwin Shoup, the four latter from Chicago, were ushers.

The Church of the Holy Comforter, where the ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock in the evening, the Rev. Leland Hobart Danforth officiating, was decorated with ferns, palms, and an arch of flowers in front of the altar. Pale green candles in tall, wrought-iron candlesticks lighted the aisle. The fireplace in the lounge of Indian Hill club, where the reception was held, was banked with palms, ferns, and garden flowers, while baskets of garden flowers were placed about the clubhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson have left for Bermuda, where they will remain until the middle of July. They will make their home in Evanston.

The GREATER HOOVER

Ask the women who have the Greater Hoover what they think of it. They will tell you that its exclusive principle "Positive Agitation," frees their floor coverings of all dirt even the deeply-buried, destructive, "unreachable" grit. See this amazing cleaner demonstrated. Only $6.25 down, complete with dusting tools.
