

Ravinia Opera Stars
Will Serve as Cooks
at Cradle Tea Room

Ravinia opera stars have promised to "come down and cook" for benefit of the Cradle when Evanston and North Shore society women have established the tea room for its financial aid at 612 Church street.

It has been definitely decided to undertake this venture. Those who have it in charge announce this week that it will be open for business Thursday, July 7. For the opening day dinner, all table reservations were engaged by the first of this week.

Hostesses From North Shore

Evanston, Winnetka, Highland Park and Lake Forest women will serve as hostesses in turn, and Junior League girls will be waitresses. Miss Cecile Zukovsky, graduate of the University of Chicago, will be the manager, and under the supervision of Mrs. T. Jerrold Bryce, graduate of the Art institute, decorations are being planned that will make the tea house "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." Their exact nature will not be revealed until the "open for business" word goes out, but those in on the secret foresee a daintily delightful outfitting and adornment. Menus are being especially designed, and the Junior League girls will serve in unique costumes to harmonize with the interior.

It is possible that a branch of the layette shop, so successfully conducted at the Cradle by Mrs. John C. Slade, may be removed to this house later on, it is also announced; but those who have the tea house planning are confident that, with all service except the cook's donated, the venture should realize each month an average income of $500 for the baby haven on Ridge avenue.

May Serve Dinners

In the beginning, only luncheon will be served. Later the demand for Thursday evening dinners may be met.

The Garden Club of Evanston has promised to keep tables and rooms supplied with flowers, and the enthusiasm and willingness of all Cradle friends to lend a hand and do what they can has been a great encouragement to the directors of the enterprise from its outset. The menus are in charge of Mrs. Lucius Crowell, and will be designed after Paris' smartest "maisonette." Mrs. Frederick P. Ives and Mrs. Kenneth Henderson will direct the assignments of the Junior League girls, and the hostesses will include Mrs. Robert Shimmin, Mrs. K. V. R. Nichol, Mrs. Malcolm MacHarg, Mrs. Glen Buck, Mrs. William Baker and Mrs. Carleton Wilson of Evanston; Mrs. Horace Armstrong, Mrs. Buckingham Chandler, Mrs. Frederick H. Scott, Mrs. Edward Kohlsaat and daughters Cythia and Suzanne of Winnetka.

Summer school at the various universities has attracted several Kenilworth students among whom are Bruce Hulbert who is returning to Ann Arbor, Mich., Dick Johnston, who regularly attends Dartmouth college, and is now attending Northwestern summer school with Winfield Taylor, Ellis Jones, Ted Stone and Dick Burke, also of Dartmouth college.

Mrs. Hathaway Waston of 900 Sunset road, her daughter, Marguerite, and her two sons, Walter and Hathaway, Jr., have sailed for abroad. They will spend the summer motoring through England and France.

Mrs. C. P. Hanley returned last week to her home at 752 Lincoln avenue. She had spent four months at Castle Hot Springs, Ariz.

PICNIC FOR NURSERY GROUP

Mrs. Theodore Coyne of 597 Provident avenue invited the little folk from the Matheon Day nursery at the Chicago Commons to a picnic luncheon at the Lake Front park Saturday, June 25. The director and two assistants accompanied the children making a group of thirty. While motoring home, the youngsters stopped at the Lincoln Park zoo to see the animals, birds and fish, a great treat for the kiddies. North shore women assisting Mrs. Coyne were Mrs. Chester Pardee, Mrs. Albert Sutherland, and Mrs. Donald Hull.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvar Sutter of 827 Prospect avenue, left last night with their two children to go to Lake Delavan for over the Fourth.
