Beverage Sets

Cooling summer drinks are enjoyed more when served from an attractive beverage set. Here you can choose from lovely sets of clear colored glowing amber glass, attractively shaped. Each set has seven pieces.

Dependable Freezers for Making Summer Dainties

From baby up, all like frozen sweets. Especially so in the good old summertime. With a freezer you can make ice cream, frozen custards and many other dainties that appease the jaded summer appetite.

Lemon Squeezers

With a lemon squeezer it takes very little time to make a pitcher of refreshing lemonade. Made of glass, is sanitary and easy to clean.

Mrs. Walter Buhlig Speaks on "Parent Teacher Work"

Mrs. Walter Buhlig, president of the Illinois Council of the Parent-Teacher association, will speak on "The Importance of Parent Teacher Work" at the National Kindergarten and Elementary college Wednesday afternoon, July 6. The splendid results which have been attained through the co-operation of parents and teachers in successful Parent Teacher associations has placed additional emphasis on the need for preparation on the part of teachers who are expected to undertake the organization of branches of the Association in new localities, and Mrs. Buhlig's talk will give some suggestions along this line.

On Friday afternoon, July 8, Dr. William S. Gray of the School of Education, University of Chicago, will lecture on "Reading Preparation and Training," using as the basis of his lecture the extensive experiments along this line which he has carried on for several years.

London Educator Visits Kindergarten College

Miss Kate Stevens of London, seventy years of age and an outstanding figure in the educational life of England, was a visitor at the National Kindergarten and Elementary college last week on her way to Australia. Miss Stevens, who recently retired after forty-two years of service as teacher and headmistress in London schools, has always been interested in the educational systems of other countries, and has made several trips around the world, visiting schools and attending educational conferences in every part of the globe.

In 1911 while attending the National Education association in San Francisco she was elected an honorary member of that organization—the first woman to be so honored.

In speaking to the students of the colleges, Miss Stevens made many interesting comparisons between the present educational system and that of forty or forty-five years ago. She suggested, however, that although there have been many changes and improvements in method, curriculum and equipment, there is at least one subject which is quite as important today as it was forty years ago—wise training in character education.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. M. Miller, 936 Elm street, will leave July 5 for a trip through the East. They will go to Detroit, Buffalo, Rochester, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Boston and the Thousand Islands.
