Repeal Federal Estate Tax, Says National Body

Repeal of the federal estate tax and allocation of this source of revenue entirely to the various states is advocated by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in a statement of its stand on tax adjustment which has just been made to its member organizations. Such a separation of sources of tax funds as between the Federal government and the states has for some time been a part of the platform for tax adjustment advocated by the National Association of Real Estate boards.

The general principles of taxation emphasized by the National Chamber are as follows:

1. General reduction of tax rates.
2. Wide distribution of personal income tax levies.
3. Differentiation between earned and unearned income.
