

Rodeo Comes to Soldier Field Week of August 20

Thousands of persons who long to be a part of the color and atmosphere of the western cattle ranges, but who cannot achieve their desire, will go to Chicago in August to see the third annual world's championship cowboy and cowgirl contests held under the direction of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

These contests, lasting from August 20 to 28, bring together the winners of other rodeos held all over the west—the greatest ropers, riders and steer wrestlers from the Mexican border far into the Canadian Northwest. This year there will be $40,000 in cash, belts and trophies for the winners. Tex Austin of Las Vegas, N. Mex. will be directly in charge of the contests.

The Chicago Rodeo will be held in the great Soldier Field stadium on the shore of Lake Michigan where 110,000 persons last fall saw the Army-Navy football game. The contests are held afternoon and evening, the arena being so brilliantly lighted that some of the fastest times in the calf roping contests have been made at night.

Mrs. Charles Hubbard and her son, Charles Hubbard, Jr., 849 Foxdale avenue, left Tuesday morning for a vacation in the northern woods of Wisconsin, near Superior. They plan to return about July 28.
