Hold Formal Opening of Zick Store Beauty Salon

The formal opening of the beauty salon of Zick's new store at Elm and Chestnut streets is being held today. The shop has eight booths, all of which have the latest equipment of every type. The specialty of the place is scalp treatments. A washed air system has been installed, which keeps the shop cool at all times, and the effect of coolness is further carried out by the color scheme of Nile green and old rose. Mrs. L. Kendon, who has spent the past ten years in organizing shops of this sort, is in charge of the salon.

Miss Christine Heinig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heinig of 782 Center street, who has been teaching at Vassar college for six weeks this summer, has returned to her home.

North Shore Communities Joined Together as District 1 in Fight on Pest

New Trier communities and areas to the west have been joined together with Evanston as District 1 in the newest campaign to rid the suburban areas of Chicago of the mosquito nuisance.

Initial action under the unified scheme will start next week with a meeting in Evanston of representatives of all of the north shore. Since the passage of the new state law, six mosquito abatement districts were established tentatively by the committee on plans called by the Gorgas Memorial institute, an endowed organization in Chicago for advising in matters concerning public health.

The District 1 section extends from Howard street north to the county line and west from the lake front to Milwaukee avenue.

Because certain preliminary steps are necessary before the actual operation of mosquito abatement under the new law, a meeting has been called at the office of John Hahn, Inc., in Evanston.

Arthur C. Stringer, secretary of the Gorgas Memorial, is a resident of the north shore, now living in Glencoe.

Services Held Yesterday for Duncan C. MacIntyre

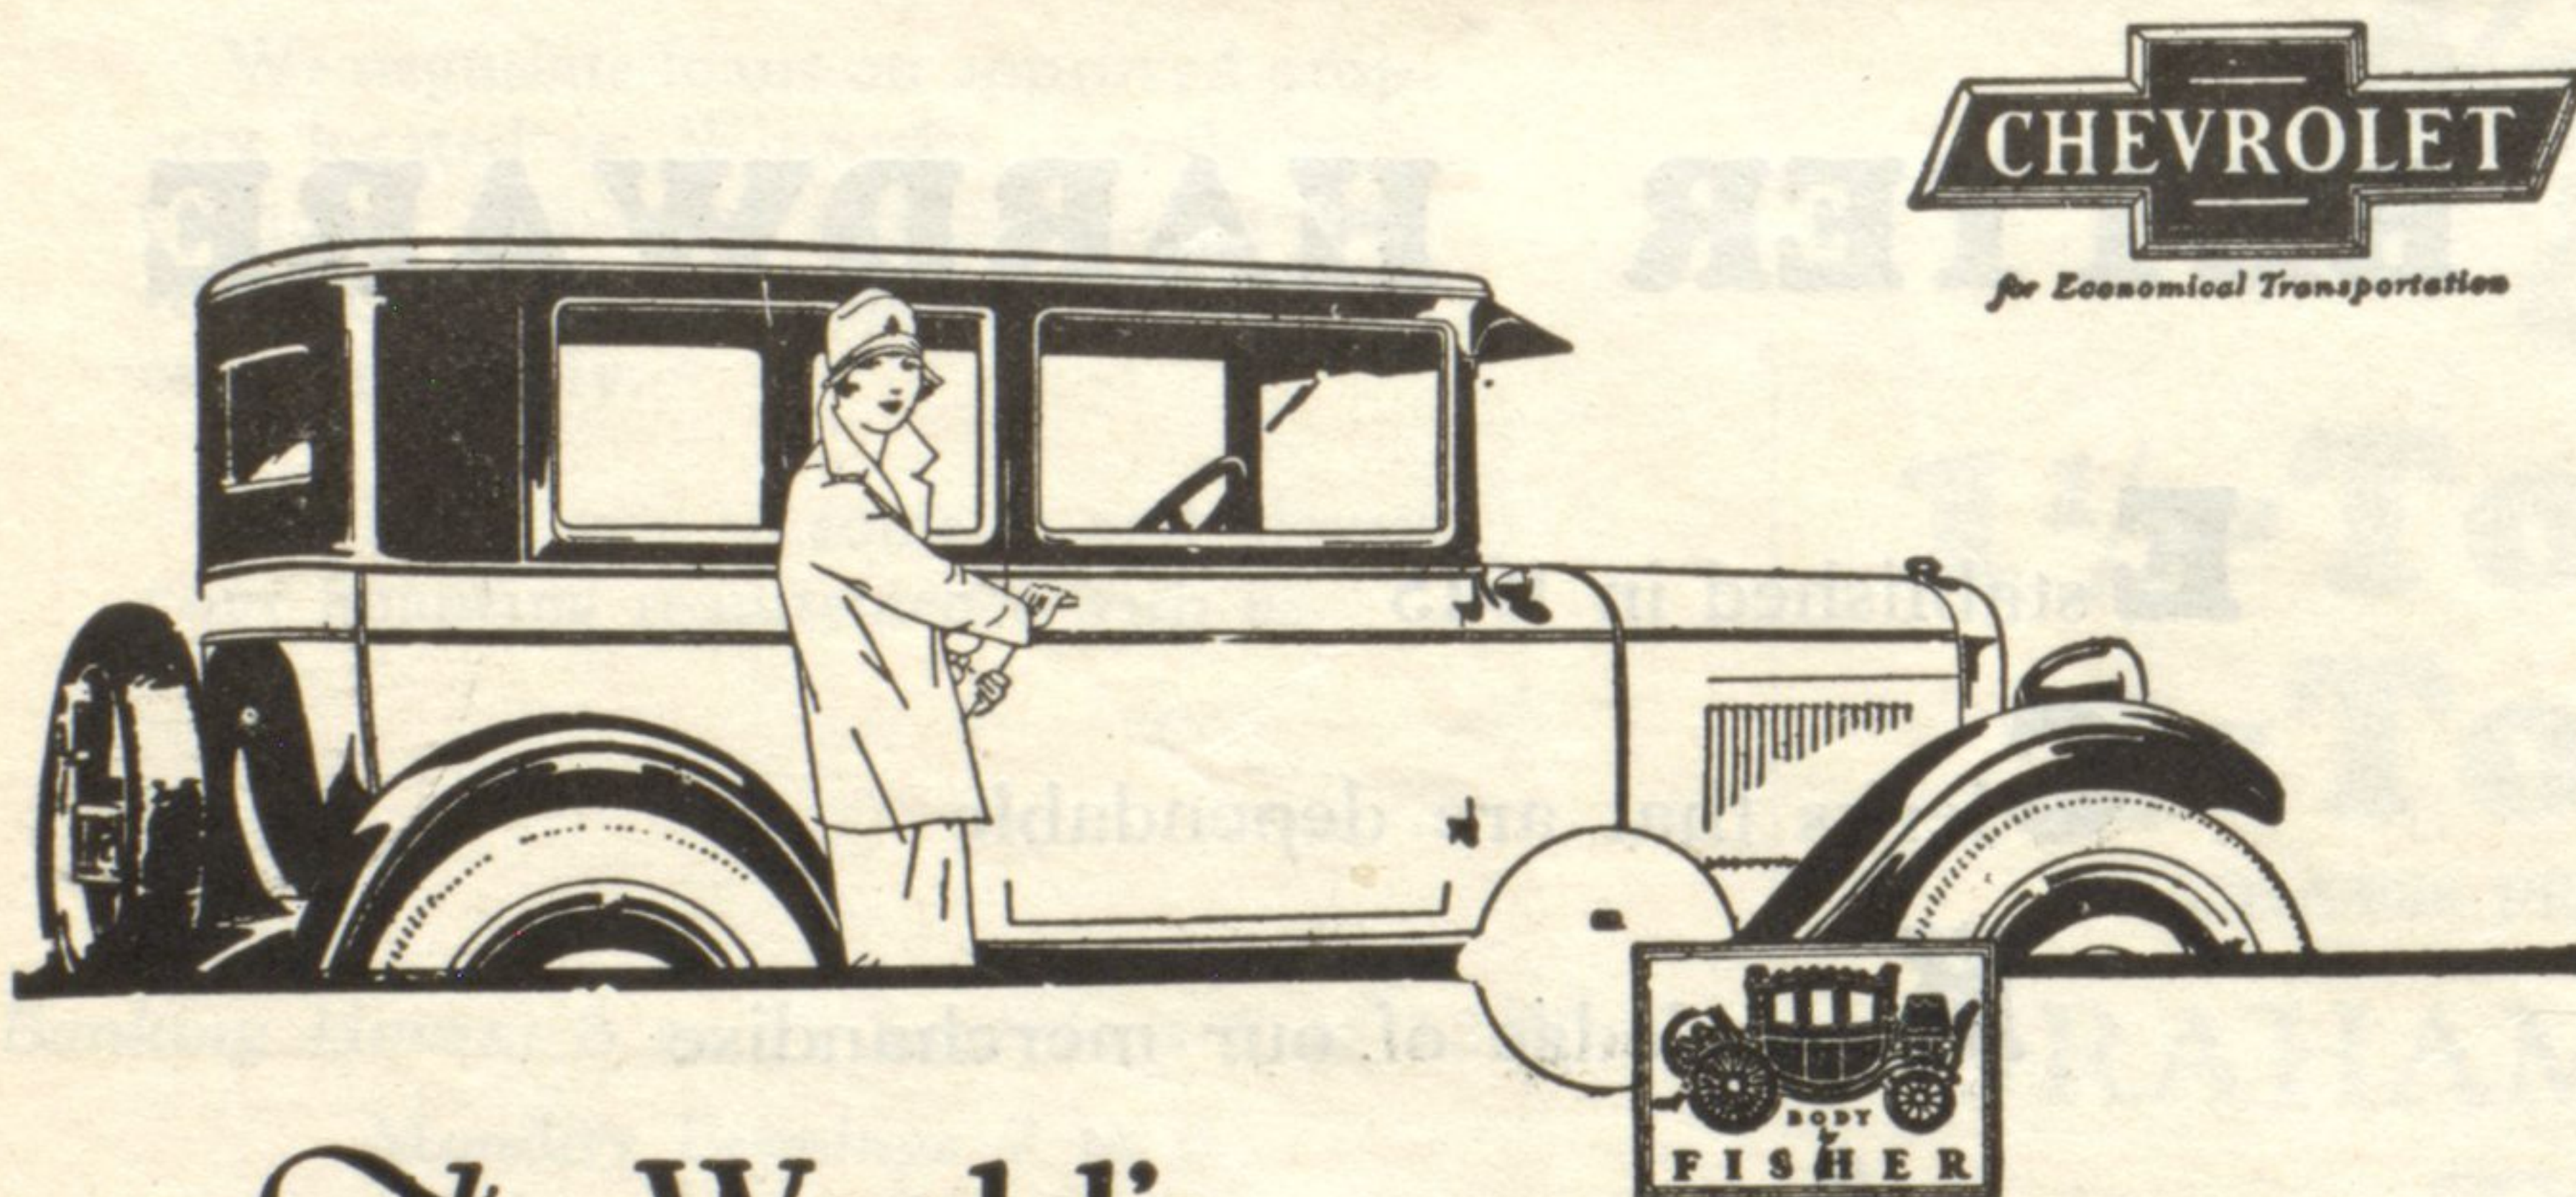

Funeral services for Duncan Campbell MacIntyre, who passed away suddenly at his home 822 Humbolt avenue, Winnetka, last Wednesday morning, were held yesterday from the Scott funeral home at 1109 Central avenue, Wilmette, at 10 o'clock.

Mr. MacIntyre was 44 years of age and was superintendent of the burglary insurance department of the Continental Casualty company of 910 South Michigan avenue, Chicago. He had been in ill health for some time preceding his death.

The widow and one daughter, Amy F., and one son Robert D., survive.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Weld and their daughter of 983 Vine street left recently for a month's stay at Glen lake, Mich., where they are occupying the Washburne cottage.

Mrs. T. Aubrey Williams of 163 Bertling lane, who has been seriously ill for the past month at the Masonic hospital, is convalescing nicely at her home.
