Fellowship Promoted at Briargate

Bill Hartshorn, Pro

golf. Mrs. Robert L. Johnson is chairman of the cards committee. Briargate goes strong for Bill Hartshorn, the club's professional and some of these days they expect Bill to shoot his way to victory in a big championship. Hartshorn is a fine tournament player. He competes in all the big events and always finishes well towards the top. He has been with the club three years. The officials of the club are: Frank L. Cheney, president; vice-president, John Clark; second vice-president, Leslie E. Miner; treasurer, Charles S. Ellis; secretary, Robert L. Johnson.

Regular religious services were first held in Illinois in 1787 at New Design, in what is now Randolph county. Illinois has 8,602 miles of gas mains, which is almost ten percent of the total of the United States.

A Brush Full of Paint

What would you do with it, were you about to paint a picture?

Where to begin—that's what we teach first: How to see, how to translate sight into vision, how to transfer vision to paper and canvas.

No one is too old to learn the fascinating "whys" and "hows" of artistic expression, and few too young.

Our classes are open day and night, and there's an hour and a course for everyone interested.
